Official Party Preparing For Ceremonies During Crossing of Equator

BY THOMAS L. STOKES
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
BOARD THE U.S.S. MARYLAND AT SEA, Nov. 21.—(UP)—President-elect Herbert Hoover looked forward with keen zest today to a few hours' sport with the fighting deep sea fish that lurk off the Lower California coast.

The mighty Maryland increased her speed to 18 knots and headed for the fishing grounds off Cape San Lucas and expected to arrive this afternoon.

Four boats were in readiness to put over the side for the deep-sea anglers. Hoover and his party plan to use a big open motor-sailer. They will troll from the launch with spoons and other artificial equipment.

The blue Pacific, off the tip of Lower California, swarms with big fighting fish—Marlin, tuna, sharks, sail fish, sword fish. Mexican fishermen often have come to grief in battles with giant fish in these waters when their quarry turned on smaller boats and smashed them.

A star-jeweled white night of the tropics, last night brought forth ducks and flannels and members of the Hoover party mopped their brows with handkerchiefs. The president-elect donned flannel trousers and white shoes, but he continued to wear his customary high stiff collar and a blue coat.

Thus far, the weather has been ideal. The water itself has become noticeably warmer and the "shell-backs"—those who have crossed the equator before, prepared for a formal meeting to make arrangements for the reception on board of father Neptune and his

LEGALITY OF WATER LAW IS QUESTIONED

MERCED, Nov. 21.—(UP)—The constitutionality of amendment No. 27, approved by the voters as No. 7 on the November ballot, which relates to riparian water rights, will be referred to the supreme court for an opinion. It was announced today by attorneys for both sides in the suit of William Collier against the Merced Irrigation district for $100,000 damages because of diversion of water of the Merced river.

Judge J. A. Smith of Calaveras county, sitting in the case, late yesterday decided the newly ratified law to be unconstitutional on the ground that the amendment conflicts with the federal constitution, in taking the rights and property of a riparian owner without proper compensation.

STOCK MARKET SURE TO FALL SAYS BANKER

Declares Public Traders Now Making Money Will Leave It Behind

By W. S. COUSINS
(I. N. S. Financial Editor)
NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—With an absolute disregard for the fundamentals in trade and finance, the public is rushing pell-mell into the stock market in a frenzy of excitement, searching every nook and corner for profits, William J. Wollman, head of the brokerage and investment house of W. J. Wollman and company, told International News Service today.

"The public is making money—lots of it," said Wollman, "but the probabilities are that the bulk of public traders will leave the most of it behind them before the movement is over. The public knows nothing, cares nothing, about values. It is following blindly the leadership of the most skillful and powerful group that ever operated in Wall street, and will follow the will of the wisps of profits wherever it leads them. 'Never was the situation in Wall Street as dangerous as it is today. With the floor of the stock exchange inadequately manned the ticker an hour behind and practically useless as a reflection of activities on the floor of the exchange, a violent reaction in prices, with disastrous results, might easily occur, bringing about a mild panic before the outside world was cognizant of what was going on."

"Those who are buying stocks at current levels are disregarding also the important matter of dividend returns and are discounting the future prosperity of the country too far ahead. Either there must be a corrective reaction or a long period of doldrums

REPORTER HELD ON BANK THEFT CHARGE

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 21.—(UP)—Kenneth T. O'Hara, a newspaper reporter was held in jail here today charged with absconding from Los Angeles with $175,000 belonging to the bank in which he worked. O'Hara, whose real name police believe is James B. O'Neil, was arrested in the editorial rooms of a New Orleans newspaper.

The money was in the form of bonds, police said, and all but $25,000 of it was afterwards mailed by an anonymous person to the treasury department at Washington. O'Hara denied he was O'Neil, but admitted his name was assumed. He said he was born in Louisville, Kentucky.

FLOOD WATERS IN MISSOURI RECEDING

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 21.—(UP)—Two days of fair weather and rising temperatures today had ameliorated flood conditions in the southwest and marauding rivers were receding rapidly. Only in sections of Missouri, where the Missouri river was still belching the overflow waters of its tributaries, did conditions remain above normal but the situation was not considered grave. Butler, Mo., isolated for almost five days, had restored railroad service today and the first mail since Friday was brought to that town. Crippled train service rapidly was being restored in Kansas and Missouri and train officials declared the crisis of the worst tie-up in the history in this section had been reached. Highways that had stood under water for several days were being opened. The death toll of the floods remained at 14.

Slip of Paper Containing Name of His Successor Creates Interest

By F. A. WRAY
International News Service Staff Correspondent
LONDON, Nov. 21.—As Gen. Bramwell Booth, veteran head of the Salvation Army, lies critically ill, interest today centers upon a slip of paper in a sealed envelope in the office safe of a London attorney.

That slip bears the name of the person Gen. Booth has appointed to succeed him as chief of the Salvation Army. No one but Gen. Booth knows that name. Succession to the stewardship of the Salvation Army is not hereditary. One of the first duties of a new leader is to select his successor. If, at any time during his period of office he sees fit to alter his decision he is at liberty to do so.

Evidence of possible dissension over the question of succession led Mrs. Bramwell Booth to issue a message to the Salvation Army workers throughout the world and

Former Bankers In Inyo Before State Parole Board Soon

SAN QUENTIN PENITENTIARY, Nov. 21.—(UP)—W. W. and Mark Q. Watterson, brothers and former Inyo county bankers, will come before the prison board this month for determination of their sentences, set by the court as from one to 10 years. They were received here November 15, 1927, after conviction of embezzling $400,000 and falsifying records of their Owens Valley banks. Having served the minimum sentence they are eligible for parole, but such action is not expected at this time.

Financial Worries Said to Have Caused Merchant To End His Life

FULLERTON, Nov. 21.—Arising at 2 o'clock this morning while other members of the family were asleep, O. E. Hershberger, 56, of 222 North Yale street, Fullerton, committed suicide by shooting himself through the heart.

Death was believed instantaneous. The spectre of financial ruin was believed responsible for Hershberger's act.

The dead man's son, Willard, is a star member of the Fullerton union high school football team. The body was taken to the McAulay and Suters parlors. It is not likely that an inquest will be held.

Funeral arrangements will not be made until relatives in the middle west have communicated with the family. Hershberger is survived by his widow, Maude, and two children, Willard, and a daughter, both high school students. Hershberger was an employee of the Shell Oil company.

BIDS ASKED ON OIL OF WYOMING FIELD

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—(UP)—Secretary of Interior West issued today a call for bids on sale of government royalty oil from the Cat Creek, Mont., oil field. The contract will extend over a three-year period from February 1, 1929.

A contract for sale of oil from the Cat Creek field held by the Lewisville Oil and Refining company recently was cancelled because of a secret renewal clause inserted in the contract by former Secretary Albert B. Fall in 1922. This action followed voiding of another contract covering oil from the Salt Creek, Wyo., field.

For 1927, the Cat Creek field yielded 139,800 barrels. In the period between January 1, and September 30, of this year, the field yielded 23,000 barrels. The sealed bids will be opened at the interior department January 2, 1929.

BLACKMER APPEARS IN FRENCH COURT

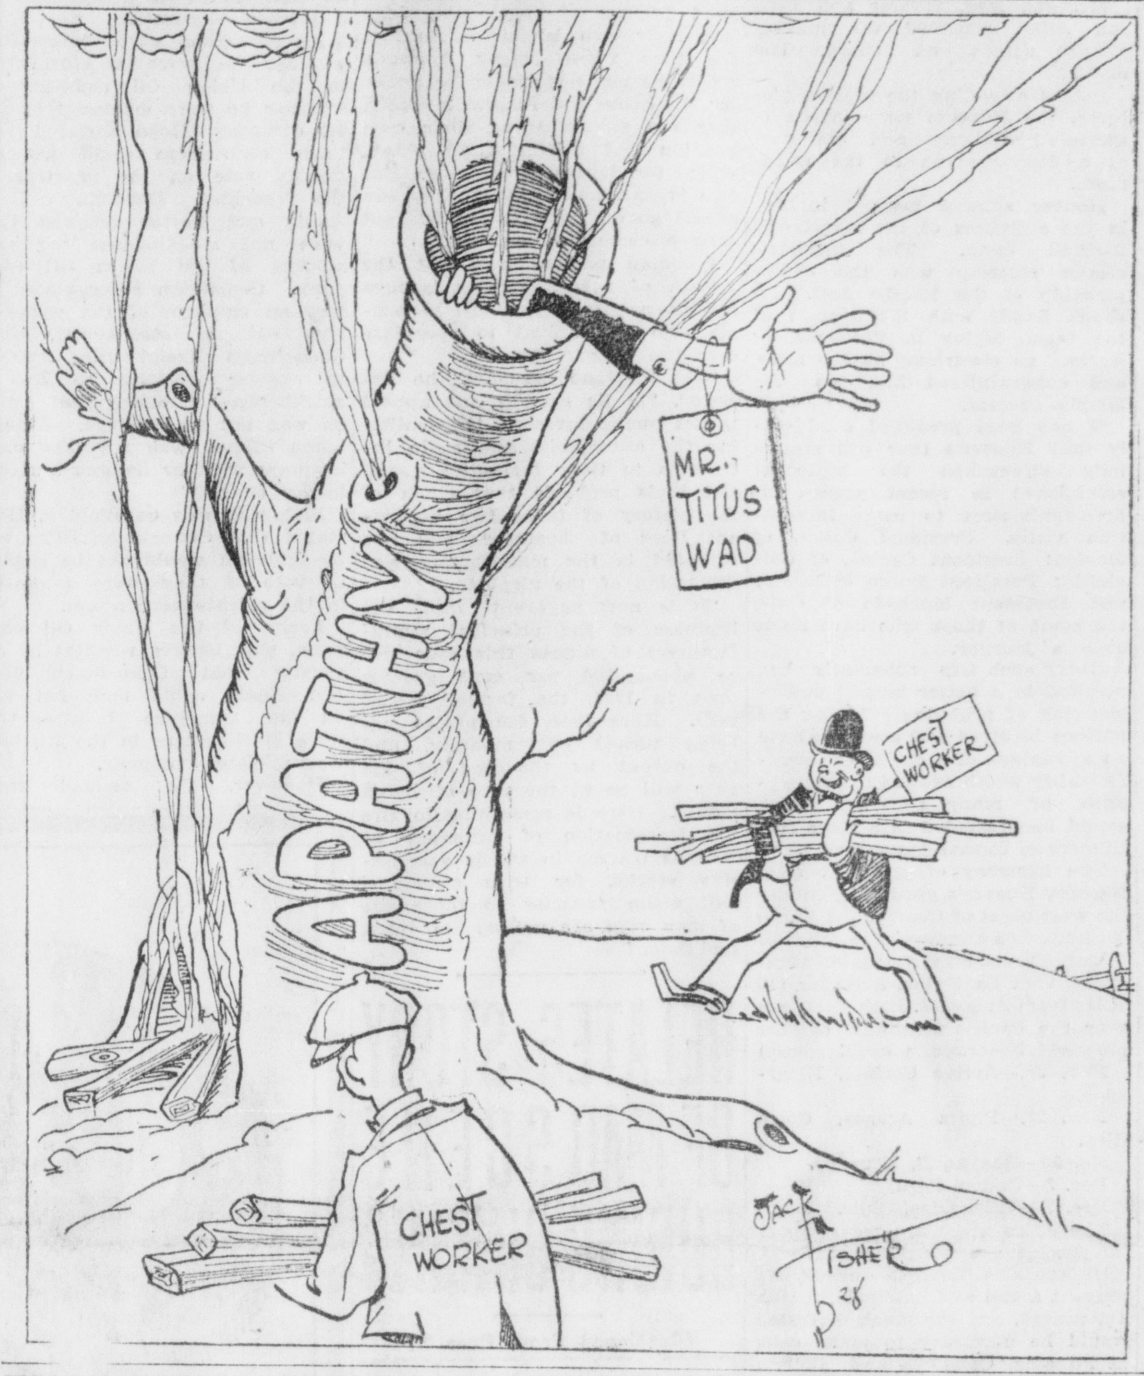

PARIS, Nov. 21.—(INS)—H. M. Blackmer, missing Teapot Dome oil witness, whose extradition is being sought by the United States government to answer a charge of perjury in connection with his income tax returns in Colorado, appeared in court today for "identification" but there was no decision of any kind bearing upon the case.

Blackmer's appearance at the palace of justice was a formality. He gave his age as 59 and his residence as the Hotel Lawvexpoie, Paris. Officials said that Blackmer must again appear personally next week before the "chambre mise en accusation."

FULLERTON COUNCIL LEASES RIGHT-OF-WAY TO UNION OIL COMPANY; ACCEPTS $100 BID

FULLERTON, Nov. 21.—The franchise for a right-of-way for the construction of a pipeline from the Santa Ana river basin to property in the north part of Fullerton was granted to the Union Oil company last night by the Fullerton city council at its regular bi-monthly meeting. A bid of $100 was accepted from the Oil company for the franchise. The granting of the franchise hinges on an agreement that must be entered into by the Union Oil company and the city.

A bitter fight between legal counsel of the Union Oil company and the Anaheim Union Water company was held, in addition to a heated argument between counsel of the water company and several city councilmen. Hubert C. Perry, supervisor of franchises and rights-of-way for the Union Oil company, explained the purpose in the Union Oil company's proposed construction of the pipeline. He stated that although much criticism had been made against the proposition, the entire purpose was misunderstood. The Union Oil company would use the water for the irrigating of approximately 400 acres of land lying within the city limits of Fullerton; that not exceeding 150 inches of water would be used during the irrigating season and would be pumped from wells in the company's property in the River basin; that the city of Fullerton would have the right to use water from a reservoir that will be constructed on the company's property north of Fullerton; and that the city of Fullerton would have the right to drill a well on the Oil company's property in the River basin for emergency use for domestic purposes, he declared.

Ferry branded the efforts on the part of stockholders of the Anaheim Union Water company to recall the city councilmen of Fullerton if they granted the

$7549 TOTAL REPORTED AT THIRD MEET

More Than 1500 Persons In Community Have Subscribed in Half of Week

500 WORKERS OUT

Meeting This Noon Held in St. Ann's Inn with Kiwanis Club Acting Host

THE 500 workers in the Community Chest showed no lack of enthusiasm and interest in the success of the campaign as the third report luncheon resulted in $7549, bringing the total subscriptions to date to $26,853. A total of 1621 persons have subscribed.

At the opening of the luncheon general chairman Clyde Downing introduced the chairman of the day, O. H. Barr, who was in charge of the program. Mr. Barr has long been identified with Community Chest work and brought to the meeting the wealth of his interest and knowledge of the Community Chest development in Santa Ana.

Today the Kiwanis club joined with the Community Chest workers. The musical program was provided by the Kiwanians. Cello solos were rendered by Eddie Burns accompanied by Alan Revill, soprano solos were given by Mrs. Arthur May. The high school band again added to the enthusiasm of the chest workers by parading down from Fourth and Main streets to luncheon headquarters at St. Ann's Inn and playing in front of the inn while the workers were assembling.

While the reports were most encouraging to the ultimate success of the campaign, Chairman Barr pointed out that there must be no slackening of enthusiasm and that the workers must comb every resource of their territory in order to assure success.

"Up to yesterday noon," said Chairman Barr, we had over a thousand subscriptions, with the industrial subscriptions yet to report. At the completion of the campaign we should have at least 4000 subscriptions to the Community Chest. This means that there is a great deal of hard work yet to be done and that we are just beginning to tap the full resources of the community."

The Community Chest according to Barr is the responsibility of everyone and in a community of this

HARBOR DISTRICT BILL IS PLANNED

NEWPORT BEACH, Nov. 21.—A special harbor district bill affecting Orange county and the Newport harbor district probably will be introduced at the next session of the state legislature, it was decided at a special meeting here last night. Members of the chamber of commerce and representative citizens of the harbor district met with Nelson T. Edward, state senator-elect here and discussed the bill.

Edward will probably introduce the measure. The bill will in all probability be patterned after a bill passed at the last session of the legislature which affected the Ventura district. Chamber of commerce officials here have been in touch with the Ventura district for some time securing data on the measure.

The directors of the Newport Harbor Chamber of Commerce will probably appoint a special committee to draft the measure at the next meeting November 27.

Walsh Advocates Investigation Of Work Oil Contract

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—(UP)—An investigation of former Secretary of Interior Work's renewal of an oil contract with the Sinclair Crude Oil Purchasing company was advocated here today by Senator Walsh. The contract, negotiated in 1922 between former Secretary of Interior Fall and Harry Sinclair, was renewed last spring by Work, but the renewal recently was declared void by the justice department and the contract was cancelled by the interior department. Walsh said he intends to seek authorization for an investigation of the affair at the December session of congress.

Farmers Never Will Go Hungry, Convention Is Told

AGRICULTURIST WANTS TO DO OWN THINKING

By FREDERICK C. OTHMAN
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
DENVER, Colo., Nov. 21.—Farmers may need relief, but whether they get it or not, they won't go hungry as long as they remain farmers, it was indicated at the National Farmers' union convention here today.

"And that," said Milo Reno, president of the Iowa Farmers' union, is something to be grateful for, anyway."

Reno, a tall, gray-haired "farmer-turned-business-man" from Des Moines, head of a Farmers' mutual insurance company and a power in the livestock industries of Chicago and St. Paul, was the principal exponent of satisfaction in a group apparently composed of men none too happy with their lot.

"The farmer needs a lot of things," Reno drawled. "He needs higher prices for his crops and his livestock; he needs better educational facilities for his children, and he needs more of the comforts that his city neighbors take as a matter of course."

"But for all that he is not going to go hungry—he's right at the source of supply."

Reno was in the midst of a group of the fellow delegates when he told the United Press of his disbelief in even the remote chance of the farmer starving. All of them admitted readily enough the farmers' access to food, but they were quick to qualify his statement.

"Food isn't all, not by a long shot," said C. C. Talbot, veritable giant of a man who runs a 1000-acre wheat farm in Jamestown, S. D., and finds time besides to head the North Dakota Farmers' union. "We are not going to starve, but the way we are going, we are not going to miss it far."

Must Solve Own Problems
Talbot emphasized the need for the farmer to solve his own problems and to do his own marketing and financing through co-operative associations, without the aid of governmental agencies.

"We don't want paternalism," he said. "We think we are smart enough to do our own thinking and—well—that is what we are trying to do."

the friends of the organization, saying:
"I confidently rely upon you to stand by the principles of the Salvation Army as laid down by our revered founder, William Booth, and I greatly regret that during this century year disensions should arise in the Army that was so dear to him."

It is understood that many American leaders regard Commander Evangeline Booth, of New York City, as the logical successor to Gen. Bramwell Booth. She is expected to arrive in England shortly. It always has been customary for the leader of the Salvation Army, when he makes the decision as to his successor, to write down the name (it may be either a man or a woman) in the presence of the legal advisers of the Army. However, only the writer actually sees the name. Then the paper is placed in an envelope and sealed. Witnesses sign the envelope and it is put in the safe.

In the orders of regulations of the Army it is stated:
"The General, for the time being, is more likely than any one else to be able to select the most suitable officer for his successor. It is obvious that he will have more extensive knowledge of the qualities and responsibilities of the personnel, and of the capacity of his officers, than any other man can possibly acquire."

Gen. Booth, who is 72 years old, is suffering from a nervous breakdown and neuritis. He commands more than 23,000 officers and about 215,000 adherents. Commissioner E. J. Higgins has been carrying on his work.

court and the invitation of the neophyte crossers of the line.

Hoover is a "shellback," holding a regular "certificate" from Neptune's court which he received when he crossed the equator in earlier years.

Newspaper men and many sailors on board are numbered among the greenhorns who will be put through the initiation ceremonies. Mr. and Mrs. Hoover and their son Allan attended the moving picture shown on board, last night.

Before attending the motion pictures, the Hoovers were guests of Captain Kimberly and his staff at a dinner given in the wardroom.

Hoover showed marked interest in the activities of the Maryland's football team. The flagship's eleven recently won the championship of the Pacific fleet. He shook hands with the captain of the team, Myles B. Timmons, of Boston, an electrician in the navy, and congratulated him on the team's success.

It has been predicted confidently that Hoover's tour will materially strengthen the precedent established in recent years for presidents-elect to make international visits. President Calles, of Mexico; President Ospina, of Colombia; President Borno of Haiti; and President Machado of Cuba are some of those who have made such a journey.

Every such trip apparently has resulted in a better mutual understanding of problems affecting the nations involved and has tours have an advantage of a spirit of semi-formality which enables the observance of many activities which would be precluded in a mere fulfillment of formal engagements.

The itinerary of president elect Herbert Hoover's good will tour for the west coast of Central and South America was announced as follows:
Nov. 25—Arrive Anapala, Honduras, visit La Union, Salvador (10 miles from Anapala. Both cities are near the Pacific terminus of the proposed Nicaraguan canal route.)
Nov. 26—Arrive Corinto, Nicaragua.

Nov. 27—Punta Arenas, Costa Rica.
No. 30—Guayaquil, Ecuador.
Dec. 2—Callao, Peru.
Dec. 7—Valparaiso, Chile.

The cities given are ports where the president elect's party will land. Unfavorable landing conditions prevent a call at Guatemala, it was announced, and too much diversion would be necessary to make calls at Panama, Colombia and Bolivia on the southern passage.

From Valparaiso the Hoover party will go to Argentina via the Trans-Andean railroad and on the northward trip on board the U. S. S. Utah. It is known that they will visit Brazil, and perhaps other South American countries before continuing to Mexico City and Havana.

Naval authorities estimated that it would cost $5,000 a day to carry the president-elect by battleship. On the basis of a 40 day cruise on board the Maryland and Utah, the navy will spend about $200,000 toward the god-will mission. It was pointed out, however, that if the two vessels were not being used on the tour, they would be cruising elsewhere so that the tour represents no greater outlay than would have been necessary in normal navy routine.

2 KILLED, 16 HURT IN COACH, TRUCK CRASH

CHICAGO, Nov. 21.—(INS)—Two persons were killed and 16 others injured today when a St. Louis-Chicago motor coach crashed into a truck near Braidwood, Ill.
The coach, Chicago-bound, careened into a large truck operated by an inter-state freight transfer company.
A little girl taken from the wreckage dead, was not immediately identified. Near her was a woman, believed to be her mother, probably fatally injured.
The man who was killed was identified as Peter Carner of St. Louis.

Mystery Woman In Gambler Death Quizzed On Party

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—(INS)—Mrs. Ruth Keyes, attractive Chicago blonde, was to be taken to police headquarters today to view rogues gallery pictures of some of the gamblers who have been mentioned in the hunt for the slayer of Arnold Rothstein.
Mrs. Keyes, the wife of a Chicago brakeman and a "free lance clothing model," arrived here last night from Chicago in custody of two detectives. She was immediately spirited away to the seclusion of an uptown hotel, out of the reach of newspapermen, and questioned by District Attorney Joab H. Banton about the "party" she attended in Room 449 of the Park Central hotel on the evening of November 4. Rothstein was shot in that same room a few hours later.
The "mystery woman" came here of her own free will and is not under arrest.

markets to permit business to catch up with the market."

"Getting down to the fundamentals," said Wollman, "there can be no doubt of the strong position of American finance, trade and industry. The big business concerns—the steel manufacturers, the motor car builders, the copper and oil companies, are all making money, and ploughing back a good portion of their earnings into their own business. Against the time when bigger demands are to be made on them for goods for the home and foreign markets, they are strengthening their own position and getting their plants ready for larger production. But that is no reason why stock prices should go on skyrocketing without even a corrective reaction."

Wollman pointed out that the growth of new industries is now making a powerful appeal to people who can afford to speculate over the long range.

"The airplane industry," he declared, "is its growth and appeal to the public investor, in paralleling the automobile and radio industries in their formative years, and it is probable that much of the history of these two important lines of business will be repeated in the manufacture and utilization of the airplane."

"It is now apparent that the business of the principal manufacturers of planes this year will be about 300 per cent greater than in 1927, the former record year. More than 800 planes are being turned out monthly, and the output by the end of the year will be at the rate of 700 a month. Here is something to fire the imagination of investors as well as traders in purely speculative stocks, for wise selections will mean fortunes to thousands of men who are willing to wait for them."

franchise as unethical. He declared that instead of the opponents to the granting of the franchise coming to the Union Oil company and working out the affair with the company, they were threatening the council with the referendum as well as recall. H. C. Head, representing certain citizens in the Fullerton district as well as the Anaheim Union Water company, appealed to the city council not to grant the franchise because of the damage to the water supply that would be caused. He emphasized to the council that it would not be legal to grant a franchise to a private corporation.

After asking each councilman whether he was a stockholder in the Union Oil company or whether he were employed by the oil company, Head declared that those councilmen could not officially vote on the granting of the franchise. Councilmen Hale, Annin and Potter declared they were not stockholders nor employees of the Union Oil company. Councilman Elder stated he was an employee of the company but not a stockholder, while Councilman Kreighbaum refused to answer whether he was a stockholder, although he stated he was not an employee. Kreighbaum said it was not "any one's business whether he was a stockholder or not."

Following this questioning, Head stated that Councilmen Elder and Kreighbaum would not be eligible to vote if they were interested in the private corporation.

Ferry, of the Union Oil company, shot back a rebuttal by declaring that Councilmen Hale and Annin could then not vote on the franchise because they were stockholders in the Anaheim Union Water company.

However, the council voted three to two to accept the bid and grant the franchise providing that the Union Oil company entered into a separate agreement with the city of Fullerton granting all the concessions as listed by Ferry in his address. Hale and Annin voted against the franchise. Other speakers of the evening were John Tuffree and W. F. Coulter who urged the council not to grant the franchise.

It was announced Monday that petitions asking for a public referendum would be circulated if the council awarded the franchise. Plans for the recall of Councilmen Kreighbaum, Elder and Potter, who announced some time ago that they approved the franchise, have been dropped, it is understood.

Mr. Clay, proprietor of the Clay hotel, reported that storm water could not be carried away through the 40-inch drain pipe at Santa Fe avenue and Baker street, and asked that the trustees look into the matter.

MUSICIAN'S JOKE IS HAILED AS ART

MALMÖRE, Sweden, Nov. 21.—A still life picture painted as a joke by a Malmöre music publisher, E. Anderson, who executed the crude "piece of art" with his thumbs, inspired the praise of connoisseurs at a recent amateur exhibition here. Numerous flattering articles appeared in the local press until the practical joker revealed his identity.

The hanging committee, canvassing Malmöre for paintings by amateurs, appealed to Anderson, who had studied art in his youth, to submit a picture. All he had to offer was a canvas of some roses, which he had made in fun for his wife, as a consolation for not bringing home a bouquet of flowers she had asked for.

The canvas was accepted as a piece of modernism and immediately became the center of interest at the show. One critic spoke of it as a masterpiece. Another said it was a masterpiece of technique in which the painting was executed, and others praised its rich charm. Some collectors offered to buy it.

DON'T BE SICK!

THE INALIENABLE BIRTH-RIGHT OF NATURE IS HEALTH. That same health comes from within our own body—not from without.

Perhaps you have been ailing for a long time and have tried this and that with little or no results. Stop that uncertainty and find the exact cause of your trouble before you waste more time and money.

Your body at one time functioned normally and if given the chance will do so again. Health is the result of perfect co-ordination between the brain and all the tissues of the entire anatomy. Pressure on nerves is the cause of the weakness that is responsible for most bodily disorders.

STATE HUMANE OFFICER HALES MAN TO COURT

Charged with cruelty to animals, Angel Reyes, Brea canyon, pleaded guilty in Justice Kenneth Morrison's court this morning and the time for pronouncement of judgment was set for 10 o'clock Monday morning.

Seven calves left in Reyes' care starved to death on his ranch, according to a statement made to the court by G. A. Llewellyn, state humane officer, who arrested Reyes.

Twenty-nine calves were left in a field to shift for themselves for food, the officer declared, and seven died, with a possibility of five more dying within the next few days, he testified.

Reyes declared that he was making ready to unload seven carloads of calves at the ranch today or tomorrow and when asked what they would eat said they also would be placed in a field, which, according to the humane officer, offered little or no food for the animals.

MARRIED, DIVORCED, THEN REMARRIED TO SAME MAN—NOW ASKS SECOND DIVORCE

After marrying once, separating once by divorce and then marrying again to the same man, Mrs. Eva T. Smith today again brought suit for divorce against F. Morris Smith, after approximately 24 years of the second marriage had elapsed, during which life was a constant turmoil, according to the complaint. Smith is a rancher, residing near Fullerton.

From 20 to 30 times during this period Mrs. Smith separated from her husband and returned to him when he promised to change his conduct, her complaint said. The last separation was on November 1 and two or three days afterward Smith begged his wife to return, according to the complaint, which stated that when she refused he slapped her.

Mrs. Smith said that her husband was a constant drinker and that during the last two years he had shattered his health in this manner. While under the influence of liquor he choked her, handled her roughly and spoke to her in the vilest terms in the English language, the complaint stated.

The first wedding was in 1897, after which one child was born. Then divorce occurred, but was followed in 1904 by the second marriage, the complaint said.

MUST SECURE STEAK STYLES AUTHORITY TO ARE DISPLAYED CLOSE SCHOOLS IN STOCK FAIR

According to information from Sacramento, attention of county school superintendents was called today to the section of the state law which governs closing of schools during epidemics to show that authority must come from the state department of public health.

At the office of County School Superintendent R. P. Mitchell it was pointed out today that reports today show all Orange county schools in operation, although several were closed for a few days last week as a result of absence due to influenza.

The communication referred to was reported to have been sent out by William John Cooper, state superintendent of public instruction, as a result of reports from throughout the state that schools were being closed. The communication had not been received at the Orange county office today.

MEXICO CITY MAY UNIFORM OFFICE GIRLS

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 21.—(UP)—Both public morality and governmental efficiency might be bettered by making women employees of federal offices wear uniforms, a few members of the Chamber of Deputies have decided.

But they have not had the courage to put their theories to the test and several deputies who were said to be preparing bills to inaugurate modest dress denied responsibility for such proposal.

In the press the suggested new uniform has been referred to as "el traje honest" or decent or honest dress.

The clothes now worn by government employees are described as "provocative" in some cases. Chiefs of offices have difficulty keeping their eyes off their female fellow workers at times when their thoughts and glances should be elsewhere.

Readers of newspapers in public letters have gone into the question of modern morals in a general way, a few contending that present exaggerations in women's dress will be the first step in causing women to "become depraved."

WANTS LAWYER TO INSPECT LICENSE

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 20.—Grant Muns who has won the name "Cupid" because he hands out wedding permits as head of San Francisco's marriage license bureau, believes he has found a candidate for the world's most cautious man.

The man in question appeared at the clerk's window and asked for a license. Hunson handed him one.

"I want to take this home with me," said the man, turning to leave. "Hold on," said Munson. "That will do you no good. The girl has to come here with you and sign it."

DRAFT PRAISED IN TALK BEFORE LEGION GROUP

ANAHEIM, Nov. 21.—"The Universal Draft" was discussed by Jimmie Heffron, local newspaper man and member of the American Legion, at the regular meeting of the Legion here, last night.

Heffron declared that the measure was the greatest single factor in the promotion of universal peace and urged every one to support it. The act, he said, had been introduced in Congress in 1921 and was known as the Capper-Johnson bill. By the working of the act, Heffron pointed out, in time of war, the president would have the power to draft money and industry as well as man power.

William Payne, who had been invited by the Legion to give an outsider's criticism, said that he considered the organization the greatest in the world for peace. The only criticism he could make, he stated, was that out of three million eligible members but three-fourths of this number had joined.

The Rev. Benjamin S. Haywood, pastor of the White Temple Methodist church, was made an honorary member of the Anaheim post. The Rev. Mr. Haywood, in a brief talk, thanked the post for the honor accorded him. He also told something of his war time activities.

Mike Tierheimer played several accordion solos. Glen Merrill was the chairman of the evening. The meeting was in charge of the commander of the post, Joe Elliott.

At the close of the business session and before the program was given the members of the American Legion auxiliary, who meet the same evening, were asked to join the members of the Legion for the program and sandwiches and coffee.

At the auxiliary meeting, which was in charge of Mrs. Josephine Fulfer, Mrs. Florence Smith, past president of the organization, was presented with a set of toy dishes in one of which was concealed a sum of money. She was instructed to buy a set of dishes with the sum. Members of the auxiliary enjoyed cake and hot chocolate at the close of their meeting.

R. H. Haberstroth, 25, of 209 West Sixth-third street, Long Beach, was arrested here last night by Officers Holmes, Peterson and Adams at the request of officers in Long Beach, where it is said he is wanted in connection with the theft of an automobile.

ENTHUSIASTIC RECEPTION GIVEN SANTA ANA CANTANDO CLUB IN FIRST OF WINTERS CONCERTS

By RUTH ANDREWS

An event of outstanding interest to all music lovers of this section occurred last night in the Yost Spurgeon theater, when the Santa Ana Cantando club, under the energetic leadership of its capable director, Leon Eckles, and ably accompanied by Miss Ruth Armstrong, presented the initial concert of the series it plans to offer during the winter season.

Admirably chosen as prelude to the splendid program offered, "To Arms," by J. H. Maunder, made effectively masculine opening clean-cut, distinct changes of expression varying from well-restrained pianissimo to a climax of strength and volume.

WOMAN ALTERS PLEA TO GUILTY ON GUN CHARGE

Mrs. Lude Shifflett, former Santa Ana resident now living at Long Beach, charged with carrying a concealed weapon, today changed her plea of not guilty to guilty in Justice Kenneth Morrison's court and time of pronouncement of judgment was set for 10 o'clock next Monday morning.

Mrs. Shifflett was held to answer to the superior court on a check charge last week and the court decided to wait until the information in that case was filed before acting on the other charge. Officers Don Moseley and F. L. Humiston are said to have found a pistol in Mrs. Shifflett's purse when they arrested her at Seventh and North Main streets on the check charge.

She testified today that the pistol was the property of her husband and that she took it from his room because she was a afraid of him. She was on her way to the sheriff's office at the time of her arrest to turn the pistol over to authorities, she said.

Mrs. Shifflett stated that she had been separated from her husband, who lives here, for the last two months and that she came to Santa Ana from Long Beach on the day of her arrest to try to effect a reconciliation.

tion with the theft of an automobile.

Venice police yesterday reported they had found a stolen car registered to H. C. Morrow, Long Beach, and that number plates registered to Joe Valles, 2026 West Fifth street, Santa Ana, were found in the pockets of the machine. Valles reported he sold the car to which the numbers belonged to a Long Beach used car dealer several months ago.

This courageous, typically martial challenge was enthusiastically applauded. With similar appeal, well-adapted to the male voices, Parker's "Cossack War-Song" was replete with energy and motion, rapid staccato accompaniment adding much to an effect of bold virility.

A direct and satisfying contrast, a hush of twilight pervaded the andante tempo of Sullivan's descriptive art-song, "The Long Day Closes," unaccompanied, while voices of the ensemble blended in softly modulated nuances of expression, gradually working up to vivid climax in the final verse.

Charmingly Picturesque
Charmingly picturesque, Miss Harriet Henderson's lyric soprano found happy expression in an especially enjoyable song-group, her liquid tones marked by bell-like clarity. As its name implies, Seller's "A Burst of Melody" was fluent and bird-like, with rippling accompaniment. "Butterflies," another Seller number, shimmered with iridescence, an unusually attractive selection, with Miss Armstrong's delicate accompaniment ever especially artistic and praiseworthy. The "Serenade" was melodic, marked by growing intensity of feeling, while the familiar "Joy" (Watts) lent its note of dramatic power.

Miss Henderson acknowledged presentation of flowers with an encore, "The Wings of Night" (Watts), a sensuously lovely conclusion, while Miss Armstrong also was presented with flowers in token of appreciation for the outstanding artistry of her work throughout the evening.

Especially powerful, the "American Ode," by Kountz, with soprano solo by Miss Henderson and bass solo by Clifford Johnson effectively intermingled, was descriptive, marked by gravity and depth, with cleverly interwoven theme of "America" at the conclusion lending a note of patriotic inspiration.

Following brief intermission, the club was heard in rendition of the familiar "Pilgrims' Chorus," from Wagner's Tannhauser, its note of religious solemnity well shaded with colorful, ever-changing expression, an admirably achieved climax dying away in effective diminuendo. Its light grace heightened by capricious, sparkling accompaniment, "The Ladies of St. James'" (Franz Bornschein) was a pleasing, well-liked contrast to heavier, more typically masculine numbers, as was also "To a Wild Rose" (Mac Dowell), its charming adaptation of words by Herman Hagerdorn replete with delicacy.

Spirited and Humorous
Spirited and humorous, the clever novelty comic selection, "The Musical Trust," by Jos. W. Clokey, brought ovations of applause demanding repetition before an enthusiastic audience would be satisfied. Parts for different voices were interestingly arranged, the mechanical duo accompaniment by Miss Armstrong, assisted by Miss Eva Ramsey, effective and suitable.

An echo from last year's successful season, as conclusion to the well balanced program, the club chose Strauss' "Beautiful Blue Danube." This graceful number will ever remain a favorite with audiences universally. An especially charming arrangement of the loved strains included the duet by A. J. Garroway and Fred Wilde, while the last section of the song was generously repeated by the club at the close of the enjoyable program.

It is with a feeling of sincere pride that we claim the Cantando club one of the community's more important musical organizations, its high ideals of progress and musicianship so thoroughly evident in this opening concert of its present series.

WOMAN IS GIVEN $15,000 DAMAGES

One of the largest damage suit judgments awarded here in recent months had been given today to Mrs. Esther E. Bamber, of Orange, at the conclusion of a case against Wilfred M. Clare, of San Diego, in Superior Judge M. J. Marks' court.

A jury late yesterday returned a verdict in her favor for the sum of $15,000.

Mrs. Bamber had requested $16,000 damages from Clare in a complaint based on an automobile accident which occurred in September, 1927, at the intersection of Stanton and Lincoln avenue. Mrs. Bamber alleged that the Clare car collided with the one in which she was riding, causing injuries to her.

The telephone system of Australia added nearly as many telephones during the five-year period that ended in 1927 as was added during the preceding fifteen years.

NEWCOMERS TO BE WELCOMED BY MEN'S CLUB

More than 50 members of the Men's club of the First Methodist Episcopal church assembled in the church social rooms last night to hear an inspiring address by the Rev. Harry White, of Burbank, and to make plans for future winter activities of the organization.

Among the plans discussed and meeting with warm enthusiasm was that of selecting a committee of two men for each day of the week whose duty it will be to look out for strangers and newcomers in the city and extend them personal invitations to church services. Names and addresses of these strangers will be obtained and given to the secretary, who will respond with formal invitations to the services.

Those who have other church affiliations will be reported to the pastors of their respective churches. The aim is to make every newcomer in Santa Ana feel welcome to the city and to a church home.

Other plans of progressive and constructive nature will be taken up on the program at future meetings, the next of which will be announced in the near future.

EATING HOOVER ORANGES

County Sends Oranges to Hoover For Good Will Tour

Herbert Hoover may not have access to the lowly peanut of which he is reputed to be rather fond, but the Orange county supervisors today were determined that he should not lack the finest walnuts grown while on his friendship tour to South America.

A 100-pound sack of Diamond brand walnuts, together with a box of choice Valencia oranges were delivered on shipboard prior to his leaving. The oranges were the offering of a group of Orange county high school girls. Hoover, in a telegram received just before his departure, expressed his appreciation of the courtesy. In the recent election this county went nearly four to one for Hoover.

Held To Superior Court On Charge Of Contributing

Lonnie Spagle, Huntington Beach man, charged with contributing to the delinquency of two minor Santa Ana girls in connection with the cases of Robert Turner and Tom Allen, Huntington Beach, who now are awaiting trial in the superior court, was held to answer to the higher court at the conclusion of his preliminary examination in Justice Kenneth Morrison's court this morning. Bail was fixed at $1000, which the defendant failed to provide.

The Public Forum

Communications under this heading must be signed by the name of the writer. These communications express the opinions of the writers of them. The opinions may or may not be the opinions of The Register.

Editor Register: J. R. Smalley criticizing your recent editorial on the Anti-evolution Law of Arkansas asks:

"Why should an unproven theory be taught as a fact? You want the science of evolution taught that the young may have an opportunity of deciding for themselves. In all fairness why not tell them the Bible story (of the origin of life) at the same time?"

I think the Register has been more than fair to orthodox beliefs, which include many quite "unproven theories" taught from the Bible as facts. I am sure that if all the unprovable things in the Bible taught to the helpless young as "facts" were forbidden by some such law as the Arkansas law, a great and bitter cry would go up from those who approve the Arkansas law against the teaching of evolution.

Where is the virtue in holding tenaciously to a mistaken belief? We may go to the Bible for some things—perhaps to our profit. But it is not a source of accurate scientific knowledge. In the organic world, the sciences of geology, paleontology, and biology have revealed, most wonderfully, an orderly development from lower to higher forms, from smaller up to larger capacities—a development which can be definitely seen to have been going on for millions upon millions of years and which therefore gives promise of going on for ages yet to be.

"A fire-mist and a planet,
A crystal and a cell,
A jelly-fish and a saurian,
And caves where the cavemen dwell;
Then a sense of law and beauty,
And a face turned from the clod—
Some call it evolution
And others call it God."
Let light and truth prevail lead where they will—out of the gloomy caverns of ancient myth and superstition into the glorious radiance of tested science and accurate knowledge. It is a poor faith that fears truth!

NEGRO CHOIR TO GIVE CONCERT HERE THURSDAY

Said to be one of the best church choirs in Southern California, a group of Negro singers from the Second Baptist church, Los Angeles, will appear here at 8 p. m., tomorrow, in a benefit performance, it was announced today by the Rev. D. L. McGriff, pastor of the Second Baptist church here.

One of the best ever given by Negro talent in Santa Ana, said the Rev. Mr. McGriff in announcing the event. The First Methodist church was announced as the location of the affair tomorrow night.

Proceeds of the entertainment will be devoted to the Second Baptist church, the Rev. Mr. McGriff pointed out.

Refusal To Allow Issue Of Stock By Sierras Is Upheld

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 21.—Action of the state railroad commission in not allowing the Southern Sierras Power company to issue $2,000,000 of preferred stock to refund outstanding debts on the ground that it is a Wyoming corporation and the commission held no jurisdiction has been sustained by the state supreme court.

The corporation asked for a writ of mandate to compel a rehearing and issuance of a stock sale permit. The court upheld the commission's claim that only the laws of the state or nation creating the corporation could be applied and dismissed the application.

The Southern Sierras Power company is seeking a right-of-way through Orange county for a high power line connecting in San Bernardino and Seal Beach. Condemnation suits against property along the route are under way and farmers in the Garden Grove region are resisting the project.

Direct long distance telephone service has been inaugurated between Spain and Holland.

ANTIQUES ARE PUT ON DISPLAY IN FROCK SHOP

Patrons of the Dolly Dot shop, that interesting little frock shop which Mrs. G. V. Linsenbard maintains in her home at 415 West First street, find their interest divided these days between the colorful dresses of wash material or heavy soft crepes and the quaint old spinning wheel which finds prominent place in the room.

It is a far cry from the bright cotton prints of the present day and the modern method of spinning which they are fashioned to the spinning wheel and its mute testimony of the primitive methods used some 200 years ago. For the wheel is more than 200 years old, according to Mrs. Linsenbard, and was used regularly by one of her ancestors. It is all hand-made and the sections from which the wheel itself is formed are joined almost invisibly with small wooden pegs.

A companion piece to the spinning wheel, but eloquent of the ease of those early days rather than of such labor as spinning, is a handsome old mahogany chair, which also came to Mrs. Linsenbard from her ancestors. The lines of the chair are graceful and lovely, showing the French influence. It has an unusually wide seat and the frame is of solid mahogany without a trace of veneer so prevalent in this age.

350 Present For Anaheim Meeting

ANAHEIM, Nov. 21.—Nearly 350 persons were present at the annual church dinner of the Zion Lutheran church, which was held in the church bungalow last night.

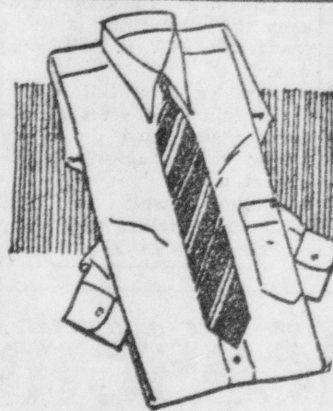

A program was given under the direction of Mrs. Smeltzer, wife of the pastor of the church, after the dinner was served. The program included a two-act play, "The Pink Swan." Ten women were cast in the play. A reading was given by Bernice Bremner.

HIGH SCHOOL AND JAYSEE NOTES

Delegates from Y. W. C. A.'s of Long Beach, Santa Ana and Fullerton junior colleges have been invited to attend a special "Y" meeting to be held in the Chaffey junior college tonight. Clara Miller, Y. W. C. A. secretary at the University of Southern California, has been chosen as the speaker.

The group will assemble in the dining room in the Chaffey college at 5:30 for a banquet. The specially arranged program will be prepared immediately following the dinner.

Santa Ana high school students established a fair record in the Pribble-McCrory diagnostic test for practical English grammar recently given in the high school. It was announced today by A. C. Hoonshell, student counselor. The test was given to 31 English classes in the high school. The seniors maintained the highest average, with a total of 140 out of a possible 148. The juniors rated second, scoring 130 points out of a possible 139. Sophomores ranked third with 121 points out of a possible 133.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—With the approach of winter 42,618,359 women in the United States have placed their summer furs in cold storage, it was announced today by the U. S. Chamber of Commerce.

WORTHMORE, Conn., Nov. 21.—The proverbial "stern looking" judge is no more in Worthmore, as all of the city's judges are looking pleasant since receiving substantial increases in salaries. Sociologists point out that it is not because of a more weighty responsibility or superior intellect that a judge has always been regarded as "down in the mouth" while on the bench, but due to the fact that they have been grossly underpaid.

ANAHEIM, Nov. 21.—A married man, whose name it would be a shame to tell, fainted today when he saw a $100 bill. Bystanders discovered it was a grocery bill.

PLACENTIA, Nov. 21.—While firemen worked frantically to save a burning building here last week, Charlie Palmer, well known contractor, was sitting on a fence watching the blaze. By a strange twist of fate the high pressure hose was accidentally turned onto Palmer. Charlie admits he was "on the fence" during the recent campaign, but says he is dry now.

COMMUNITY PROVERBS

To knock is human; to boost is divine.

There is no saturation point in progress.

Every community has some fellow who is a whole quorum. Who's yours?

Man is really a success in life only when his wheel of fortune is meshed with the cog of charity.

You can't retire at your first place of good fortune; for the rain that makes the crops grow brings the weeds, too.

You can catch more customers with advertising than you can by standing in front of the store and complaining about how rotten business is.

TALKING MOVIES ARE BRINGING THE HAM ACTOR ONCE MORE INTO HIS OWN.

Education will reduce crime by being given to one class of criminals, and by being kept away from another class who are already too smart for the rest of us.

VIEWS OF THE NEWS

One-half of the candidates don't know how the other half got elected.

THE GOVERNMENT WILL NEVER GO OUT OF BUSINESS BY KEEPING OUT OF BUSINESS.

Our idea of a hundred percent American is a citizen of the United States who would say "He's my President" if Smith had won, the same as he is saying it now about Hoover.

Better babies mean better boys and girls; better boys and girls mean better men and women; better men and women mean better citizens; better citizens mean better communities. So watch the babies!

Two Seal Beach boys were arrested the other day on a charge of stealing a slot machine. If they had been brought to our court we would have given them a medal instead of a fine.

THE WAY TO GIVE A WELCOME TO A TOWN IS BY BEAUTIFUL NATURAL SCENERY, NOT BY BILLBOARDS. "STATUARY" OR SIGNS TACKLED ON TREES, EVEN OVERSTUDIED COURTESIES IN THE FORM OF "WELCOME, COME AGAIN" STUFF MEAN NOTHING IN THE YOUNG LIFE OF AN AVERAGE STRANGER. HE KNOWS HE MIGHT GET PINCHED JUST THE SAME, NO MATTER WHAT THE SIGN SAYS.

If that twister at Orena last week had only let the garages and buildings alone and taken a few more of the billboards, and signs tacked on trees and fences, we would believe more firmly than ever that it's an ill wind that bloweth nobody good.

What a spectacle greets the tourist as he enters our cities and towns! Commercialism stares him in the face at every turn, and between turns. Outdoor advertising is evidence of an all too greatly developed greed for the almighty dollar, with too little thought of protecting and preserving the beauty of the landscape.

If the Eighteenth Amendment is ever to be changed we suggest that its prohibitory clause be extended to include twenty-two per cent tonics as well as one-half of one per cent beverages.

No wonder the states of Arizona and Georgia are ordering the removal of outdoor advertising signs and billboards, and stopping the further dispossession of America's beauty insofar as their boundaries are concerned.

True, the law prohibits commercial signs on the actual rights of way of the roads even in California. This should be extended to include any distance within reading sight; or tax the billboards the same as any other profit-making enterprise is taxed.

Let us listen to the voice of that great American, Theodore Roosevelt, whose life was rich, full and abundant in sensing the glories of our nation. He said: "HERE IS YOUR COUNTRY. DO NOT LET ANYONE TAKE ITS GLORY AWAY FROM YOU. DO NOT LET SELFISH MEN OR GREEDY INTERESTS SKIN

YOUR COUNTRY OF ITS BEAUTY, ITS RICHES OR ITS ROMANCE. THE WORLD AND THE FUTURE AND YOUR VERY CHILDREN SHALL JUDGE YOU ACCORDING AS YOU DEAL WITH THIS SACRED TRUST."

The Santa Ana Realty Board has shown the progressive spirit of its members by endorsing the movement for county planning. Real estate men are sufficiently alert to visualize the increase of property values as the result of systematic development through the creation of a master plan for Orange county. Otherwise they wouldn't be real estate men.

County planning would be the greatest boon to posterity, and would leave the greatest monument to the present board of supervisors of any system of administration of public affairs since the county was organized.

COUNTY PLANNING, IF ESTABLISHED BY THE APPOINTMENT OF A COUNTY PLANNING COMMISSION, WOULD BE THE GREATEST HELP (WITH THE EXCEPTION OF THE PRESS) IN ASSURING THE SUCCESS OF BOND ISSUE PROPOSALS FOR WATER CONSERVATION PROJECTS, ON WHICH DEPEND ORANGE COUNTY'S AGRICULTURAL AND ECONOMIC FUTURE.

Incidentally, a county planning commission might "touch up" the billboards, tree-plastered signs and "statuary advertising" situation in Orange county, and if so, more power to 'em!

A DOCTOR'S ADVICE: GO LIGHT ON LAXATIVES!

Everyone needs a laxative AT TIMES. But there's no need of making it a habit. If you have the habit, you can be rid of it in thirty days. Or less! And this is how:

The next time you go to take any strong cathartic—don't. Instead, take a little Cascara. That's not a vicious drug, but the bark of a tree. The laxative made with cascara couldn't harm a child. It is, in fact, the one cathartic many physicians will approve for children. Gentle as it is, cascaring is just as thorough in cleansing the colon as the more powerful purges that actually sap a person's strength.

Proof that there's no habit from cascara begins the very day after

SON PRAISES ROCKEFELLER IN MAGAZINE

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—Looking back over half a century of the remarkable paternal and filial relationship, John D. Rockefeller Jr., interviewed in December issue of The American Magazine, discusses his 89-year-old father and calls him "the most interesting man I have ever known."

The fact that the elder Rockefeller's mind is never closed, that he possesses almost unlimited patience and that he is most methodical in his manner of living is pointed out by his son. He incorporates in his picture of his father's life the latter's attitude toward the raising of children, his attitude toward luxury, and his faith in those whom he has learned to trust.

"My father is the most interesting man I have ever known," says the younger Rockefeller. "For me one of the outstanding lessons of his life is his open-mindedness. I do not mean that he is easy to convince. On the contrary, once he has reached a conclusion, he is most tenacious of his judgment. At the same time he has always been ready to consider and reconsider and questions. His mind is never closed."

The younger Rockefeller tells of his request of a loan from his father when he desired to buy a collection of Chinese porcelains owned by J. P. Morgan. Newspaper reports say that the collection was worth more than $1,000,000. His father refused the loan but upon his son's plea that he had never spent money for such a luxury as a yacht or for riotous living he reconsidered and gave him the money.

In talking of his own boyhood and the raising of children in general Rockefeller voices regret that he was not forced to work his way up from the bottom.

"I have sometimes regretted that I did not have this sort of a chance," he said, "and covet it for my boys."

Indigestion

Immediate Relief!

What most people call indigestion is usually excess acid in the stomach. The food has soured. The instant remedy is an alkali which neutralizes acids. But don't use crude helps. Use what your doctor would advise.

The best help is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. For 50 years its invention it has remained standard with physicians. You will find nothing else so quick in its effect, so harmless, so efficient.

One tasteless spoonful in water neutralizes many times its volume in acid. The results are immediate.

date, with no bad after-effects. Once you learn this fact, you will never deal with excess acid in the crude ways. Go learn—now—why this method is supreme.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. 25c and 50c a bottle—any drugstore.

"Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of The Charles H. Phillips Chemical Company and its predecessor Charles H. Phillips since 1875.

HOUSING IS DISCUSSED AT CONFERENCE

Meeting at noon today at Ketter's cafe, the board of education and members of the citizens' advisory committee discussed the school housing problem facing this city and decided to shift the date of a conference with citizens from the Newport harbor section to November 30 at 7 p. m.

Dr. John Ball, president of the board, outlined to the citizens' committee members the situation as it now stands. The reason for the postponement of the conference, it was explained, is the fact that many of those concerned will be attending a county-wide affair at St. Ann's inn on November 27, at which the recent presidential election will be featured. The first date for the conference had been set for the same night.

T. E. Stephenson, postmaster, and Stanley Reinhaus, Santa Ana attorney, represented the citizens' committee today. Dr. Ball, Herbert Miller, Mrs. Jack Wilson, Dr. Roy Horton and Dr. M. A. Patton, board members, attended the session.

One of the chief topics of discussion was the advisability of proposing the erection of elementary school buildings alone or including junior high school and high school projects.

CHICAGO CASH GRAIN

CHICAGO, Nov. 21.—(INS)—Grains closed higher today. Wheat was up 1/4c to 3/4c, corn 1/4c and oats 1/4c to 3/4c.

Wheat started unchanged to 1/4c higher and advanced further on scattered commission house buying. Offerings were rather light. After the first hour, however, local selling caused a moderate reaction. Trade in wheat was just fair and the market held within a narrow range most of the forenoon. Further rains were reported in the Argentine where harvesting is in progress. Liverpool was due 1/4c to 3/4c higher. Export demand was reported moderate with exporters reporting bids out of line on wheat and corn.

Cash demand for wheat continued light. Receipts were 23 cars. Corn opened 1/4c lower to 1/4c higher and showed further gains later on buying by commission houses, shorts and moderate offerings. March and May were at new highs on the crop. Weather conditions were favorable over the belt. Receipts were estimated at 99 cars.

Trade in oats was fairly active with price changes narrow. Receipts were 28 cars.

Provisions were easier.

STATE LEGISLATURE TO GET PLEA OF HARBOR RESIDENTS FOR HIGH SCHOOL SEPARATION

NEWPORT BEACH, Nov. 21.—A determined effort to secure a change in the state political code which will allow the separation of an elementary school district from a city high school district will be made by school leaders in this section. The attempt to secure special legislation will be made at the next session of the legislature and will receive the assistance of Nelson T. Edwards, state senator elect.

A special school committee representing the Costa Mesa and Newport Beach districts met last night at the Newport Harbor Yacht club with Edwards. Ted Craig, state assemblyman-elect, was unable to attend the session because of illness.

Brooks and Mrs. Alfred Spencer, members of the Newport school board, and other interested persons will be at the session. The contract was awarded to the Southwest Paving company, of Los Angeles, which submitted a bid of $26,411.99. NEWPORT ROAD TO BE STARTED IN SHORT TIME

NEWPORT BEACH, Nov. 21.—Construction of a new road to relieve some of the congestion at the intersection of the Coast highway and Newport boulevard at the entrance to Newport Beach was announced here today. The new road will be located in Newport Heights district and will join Newport Heights with the Coast highway. The road will be constructed in the near future and will be a part of a new subdivision plan which is being worked out by the La Habra Valley Land and Water company.

The subdivision plan of the Newport Heights section calls for the construction of a new road system and will open one of the most attractive districts in the city, it is reported. Preliminary maps of the proposed changes in the district have been made and have been submitted to the city planning commission. The maps have been referred to the city planning experts recently employed by the city to assist the planning commission.

80 PRESENT AT FATHERS, SONS BEACH BANQUET

SEAL BEACH, Nov. 21.—Eighty men and boys enjoyed the Father and son banquet which was served by the Ladies' Aid society last night in Central auditorium.

The program opened with the salute to the flag and the singing of America and was followed by community singing led by Miss Lucile Morris of the school faculty.

Special music was furnished by Miss Melva Roquet and Miss Orilla E. Bigelow, of Anaheim, and then Len O. Gunn, of San Pedro, a magician, delighted the audience with a series of tricks and stunts veiled in mystery.

The Friendly Indians and Lincoln Pioneers tried out one of their whetters with Ned Whittington and Albert Hall leading the scores. Original portraits of a Friendly Indian and a Pioneer, painted by James A. Graham, were presented to the two tribes by the artist and were received with appreciation expressed with boyish enthusiasm.

W. D. Miller, president of the California State bank, gave a brief talk and admonished the boys to be thrifty of thought and character development as well as of money.

Chief A. G. Johnson spoke of the ideals that are to be upheld by the newly organized juvenile police, who hope to lead their comrades away from trouble, not into trouble.

Program Is Enjoyed By 75 Firemen

NEWPORT BEACH, Nov. 21.—A demonstration by the Long Beach fire department rescue squad under the direction of Chief W. S. Minter featured the meeting of the Orange County Firemen's association at Balboa last night. The meeting was held at the Green Dragon cafe. More than 75 firemen from all sections of Orange county were present at the meeting. The next session of the association will be held in Santa Ana and has been designated as "ladies night." The date of the meeting has not been set.

JUNIOR LIONS CLUB PLANNED IN COSTA MESA

COSTA MESA, Nov. 21.—A junior Lions club may be formed here in the near future, it was decided at yesterday's meeting of the local Lions club. The meeting was held in the Woman's Friday Afternoon clubhouse. A. E. Block introduced the subject and suggested that a committee be appointed to start proceedings to form a club. Earl Patterson and Block were named on the committee.

An invitation was extended to the Newport Beach Exchange club baseball team to assist the Lions in opening the new lighted baseball park next Monday night. Dr. C. G. Huston, president of the club, in extending the invitation to the Newport Beach club, pointed out that the Exchange club and the Lions were the first organizations to form baseball clubs in the harbor district. The Lions have just completed lighting the baseball park at the rear of the clubhouse so that night baseball may be played.

The regular meeting of the Lions club will be held next Tuesday noon at the clubhouse. The club has been considering an evening meeting at which the wives and sweethearts of members would be guests but the idea was placed on the table yesterday after several members had asked that it be postponed until after the holiday season.

A report on the county council of Lions clubs was given by Earl Patterson and Charles Dunn, delegates. A report was also made on the attendance contest by W. W. Middleton, secretary. The report showed the gold team to be slightly in the lead. The contest closes this week.

NEW CROSSING PROPOSED FOR ARCHES CORNER

NEWPORT BEACH, Nov. 21.—Construction of a viaduct over the Coast highway at the Arches crossing will be considered next Monday night by the city council, it was reported today. The chamber of commerce has written a letter to the council asking that the city take steps to eliminate the dangerous crossing.

Construction of a viaduct over the state highway at the intersection has been an object of discussion for some time. The crossing is claimed to be one of the most dangerous in the county. A few months ago three persons were killed in one accident at the corner. Many other wrecks of a less serious nature have occurred at the point, it is stated by chamber of commerce workers.

The Orange County South Coast association has been working on the matter for some time in an effort to secure state and county aid in building a viaduct taking Newport boulevard over the Coast highway. No estimate of the cost has been secured.

Members of the chamber of commerce in asking the city to investigate the situation, point out that work is now under way to widen South Main street from Santa Ana to Newport boulevard. This will make a wide paved highway from Santa Ana to Newport Beach. The chamber of commerce directors contend that some steps should be taken here to widen the entrance to the city and suggest that the viaduct solve the problem. At present the entrance to the town is over a 20-foot bridge.

SUGAR MAKES EATING A JOY

Why eat unflavored, unappetizing foods?

A change is coming over the well-informed eating ideas of this country. For a time, food faddists tried to make us believe that we had to eat all kinds of things we didn't like in order to be healthy.

Good sense is beginning to assert itself and we now know that the foods that are good for us may also be the most enjoyable. In fact, if we don't like the healthful foods, we probably won't eat them.

Prominent medical and other scientific authorities are now reminding us that appetizing flavors may be developed and improved by sugar. One well-known scientist, for example, states that "fruit flavors are developed by sugar. Fruit acids are softened by sugar."

The only safe rule for a healthful diet is to eat as large a variety of foods as possible, including healthful cereals, fruits and vegetables made appetizing to the taste by the judicious use of sugar. Sugar is not only nutriment in its least costly form. It is Nature's perfect flavor. Sugar develops the appetizing quality of nearly all fruits. Desserts of fresh or cooked fruits are growing more and more popular. Modern candy containing fruits, nuts and pure sugar is delicious and satisfying at the end of a meal.

No one should overeat or under-exercise, but everyone, in order to be healthy, should eat plenty of healthful foods and enjoy them. The Sugar Institute.

DIAMOND CROP HEAVY: MARKET FEELS EFFECT

By WILLIAM C. FONE
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
CAPETOWN, Nov. 21.—(UP)—Inside a barbed wire fence enclosing some thousands of acres of sun-scorched wind-swept Namaqualand a little band of white men are searching and burrowing the earth for the wealth prized most of all—diamonds.

A year or so ago this bleak, neglected stretch of Africa was a desert. Today this little band of miners are taking from the earth some of the finest and most valuable stones the world has ever seen.

Indeed so valuable and so plentiful is the yield that the government who are responsible for enclosing this strip of the country and placing a police patrol to watch over it are in a great difficulty because the more these wonder stones are placed upon the market the lower falls their value.

At the time of writing it is estimated that between four and five million pounds worth belonging to the government are lying in the banks at Capetown and every week an aeroplane is bringing from this new Eldorado more and more stones to swell this priceless hoard.

Store inexhaustible
Already the government has announced that at least $50,000,000 of the money obtained from these state diggings shall be devoted to a great irrigation scheme.

Little by little these stones in the Capetown banks are being released—about $30,000 worth a month.

More cannot be taken from the hoard without bringing down the market price.

And the store in Namaqualand is believed to be well high inexhaustible.

The story of their discovery is a romantic one. A year or so ago F. C. Carstens found a small diamond six miles north of Port Nolloth. A little later Dr. Hans Mirensky, the geologist, came upon the scene at Alexander Bay. He noticed that at the cliffs and at Buchsburg the diamond was associated with the shells of an extinct oyster. On the banks of the Orange river he found an outcrop of promising shingle carrying oyster shells. This proved to be the northern end of an extremely rich line of these oyster shells and among the shells were discovered diamonds of exceptional quality.

With a rapidity with which such discoveries became known in Africa, Namaqualand quickly became flooded with prospecting parties.

The government acted swiftly. It prohibited all further prospecting on Crown lands and this vast diamond field was subjected to an almost microscopic examination by experts.

The colossal magnitude of the discovery soon became apparent. The minister of mines himself has stated that if you walk about the scene of the discovery on a windy day you can pick out stones on the surface. He himself picked up diamonds worth $3000 in less than an hour and today stones are being taken from this wired enclosure at the same rate by men who are being paid the magnificent sum of $1.87 a day!

The government started their workings with 60 men. A mess room and dormitories have since been built and there is a kitchen in which their food is cooked. No women are allowed in the camp and intoxicating liquor is barred.

LA HABRA CITRUS GROUP TO ERECT $32,000 STRUCTURE

LA HABRA, Nov. 21.—Plans for a $32,000 addition to the La Habra Citrus association plant were announced here today. The contract for the erection of the building was let to E. M. Wheatland, of Whittier. It is expected that work on the addition will be begun at once. The building is to be completed and the equipment installed by the opening of the Valencia season the first of May.

During the past year 325 acres of young orange land planted to young trees has been added to the association. The prospects of a bumper crop for the coming year was one of the factors that influenced the directors of the association in their decision to build the addition to the plant.

With the completion of the proposed structure the La Habra association plant will be one of the largest in this district, it is said.

SOME FIGURES DO LIE
The late Urban Shocker became one of baseball's greatest pitchers by studying the box scores of games. He spent hours pouring over the box score and summary of every game and it was said that he knew more about the batters than any other pitcher in baseball.

No football coach or player can achieve the same results by studying the statistics of a football game because they simply don't count. The breaks are the things that count in a football game.

Fafayette, for instance, made a total of 45 first downs against the opposition's 14 in the Bucknell, West Virginia and U. S. games but Lafayette lost the three games. Eighteen fumbles in the three games caused their defeats.

The statistics of the Georgetown-N. Y. game show to what crazy extents the figures can move.

N. Y. rushed the ball 187 yards for 17 first downs; made 5 first down and 116 yards on passes and tossed a Georgetown punter for a safety and two points.

Georgetown rushed the ball only 37 yards and didn't make a first down and made only 41 yards and two first downs on passes. But a Georgetown man picked up a fumble and ran 87 yards for a touchdown that won the game.

ONE WAY TO LEARN
Reigh Count has the blood lines and the record of a good game horse and he has a good, game owner in John Hertz, the millionaire Chicago taxi man.

In Reigh Count the Chicago turfman has a thoroughbred who could be retired to the stud without any discredit to himself or his owner because in this day it is fashionable to get a reputation and then run into seclusion with it.

Instead of retiring Reigh Count with plenty of fairly won glory, Hertz is sending him to Kentucky Derby winner to England to race in the classic Ascot Gold Cup race next year. He is doing it against all advice because the disadvantages are known and it is not certain that Reigh Count is now a sound horse.

"He is either a horse just above the ordinary Kentucky Derby winner type or he is a real great horse and I am going to find out," Hertz said.

British turfmen will appreciate the sportsmanship. They haven't had a very high regard for American horses because American owners in the past would not submit their championships to the test which British breeders may be correct in claiming to be much more severe than any of the American races.

Jack Willis Wins From Joe Anderson
LOS ANGELES, Nov. 21.—A crack at Mickey Walker's title today was within the reach of "cowboy" Jack Willis of Texas, following his well-earned victory here last night over Joe Anderson, highly reputed middleweight from the Blue Grass country.

Outweighed by five pounds, "Cowboy" Jack fought a heady battle, maintaining a fast pace, to win the decision after 10 rounds of exciting milling.

In the second and ninth rounds, Willis' fighting superiority over Anderson was obvious. He had the Kentucky battler staggering about groggily in both these cantos.

Jack Quinn, veteran with the Athletics, pitched his first game in 1928, and he is still at it.

JACK DECLINES TO SAY 'YES' OR 'NO'

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 21.—Jack Dempsey, former world's heavyweight champion, today refused to deny that he is contemplating a return to the ring.

"I won't say 'no,' and I won't say 'yes,' either," he declared on his return here today from the east.

"The fact is, I'd rather NOT fight," he continued, "but I can't make a definite statement right now."

"Estelle and I are going to stay home here until after Christmas. Then we are going to Florida."

Boston May See Stribling Bout With Loughran

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—As a result of the ruling by the New York state athletic commission that Tommy Loughran, light-heavyweight champion, cannot jump out of his division and fight heavyweights in this state, negotiations were under way today to transfer the proposed bout between Loughran and Young Stribling to Boston. The bout may

PENNOCK FARMS AND FORGETS SORE ARM; EXPECTS TO HURL FOR YANKS AGAIN NEXT YEAR

KENNETT SQUARE, Pa., Nov. 21.—In the heart of the Roaring Forties in New York, the wise minds of the New York Yankees gather these gray days and discuss 1929 plans. And foremost in their discussion about the future of a championship club is a concern over the greatest left arm in baseball.

But down here in the heart of Pennsylvania's most picturesque pastoral country, the owner of the greatest left arm in baseball is going peacefully and happily about the business of being a gentleman farmer.

Last August when the Yankees were breezing along with a great big lead and threatening to make another luke out of the American league pennant race, the left arm of Herb Pennock, the greatest southpaw in the league and the mainstay of the New York pitching staff, went dead suddenly.

Treatments Failed
He couldn't lift his arm above his head and no treatment known brought any response. He didn't pitch another game all season and it is of too recent record to recall what a terrific battle the Yankees had to win the pennant without him.

As the services of Pennock were of vital importance to the Yankees in 1928, so they will be if the Yankees are to have an improved pitching staff for the next campaign, and Pennock's arm is big worry of little Miller Huggins, manager of the team.

Pennock, however, is not fretting himself by worry. He is hunting, riding across country with his wife, working with his hounds and giving personal attention to the raising of fine tomatoes and pumpkins, which are his special hobbies.

Hasn't Tested Arm
"How is your arm, Herb?" he was asked.

"To be frank," he answered, "I do not know. I am letting it alone. I have detached myself entirely from baseball. I am occupying myself with other thoughts. I am doing the things I like to do, and I am enjoying the happiness that I have only during the months when I am with my family, my horses, my dogs and my plants. I feel that when I am mentally happy my body will be happy, if I might put it that way. And I'm sure the

Tunney Just Mr. Polly To Social Folk

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—Gene Tunney, also known as Mr. James Joseph Tunney, is just Mr. Polly Lauder as far as the new social register is concerned. But even that is something, Tunney supporters point out, for it is the first time in history that a pugilist has been admitted to the so-called charmed circle. He is listed under his wife's maiden name as follows:

"Lauder, Miss Mary J. R. (late Geo. J. R. (Married at Rome, Tunney, Mr. James J., Oct. 3.)"

According to precedent, Tunney's name will remain in the register only one year. Next year both Mr. and Mrs. Tunney will be dropped from the little handbook. Debutantes have married "out of the book" before and this custom has invariably prevailed.

23 BOYS BEGIN PRACTICE FOR CASABA SEASON

With about 23 boys in suit, Coach Clyde Patton started intensive training for the current basketball campaign at Santa Ana high school last night.

As practically all the varsity candidates are now playing football, no regular varsity practice will be held until after the grid season is finished. Also, there are quite a number of "B" and "C" players who still are playing football and the squads will be materially strengthened after the San Diego fracas, or any post-season games.

Last night's drill consisted mainly of fundamentals. Many of the hoopers are inexperienced but will pick up the popular winter sport rapidly.

Coch Patton has arranged an extensive schedule of practice games and his players will practice all through Christmas vacation. Pomona college frosh, Woodrow Wilson and various Orange county schools are now being felt out for practice games.

STANFORD BACK IS ALWAYS HERO—OR GOAT

Frankie Wilton, fleet Stanford halfback, is a peculiar gridiron personage. He is never colorless. In his career at Palo Alto, Wilton has often been a hero—and often a goat. In fact, he is either a hero or a goat in every game he plays it seems. He has two more big chances to star—or be a goat—against California next Saturday and against the Army in New York December 1.

BY BOB MATHERNE (NEA Service Sports Writer)

In glancing over the statistics of the Stanford eleven, one finds little around the name of Frank Wilton to indicate that he is any more interesting than any of the rest of the young men playing for Pop Warner.

The cold figures state that Wilton plays left halfback and has been doing so for three seasons now, that he is 23 years old and weighs 177 pounds and that he is in Huntington Park near Los Angeles.

But from none of this does one gather that Mr. Wilton is one of those colorful young men whose deeds in a big game always give room for praise due a hero—or raps due the goat—after the game is over.

Has Two More Chances
Wilton is closing his football career this season and there remain two big chances for him to make up for some of the costly blunders that he has made. The Warner eleven plays California Saturday and then tramps across the continent to meet the West Point outfit December 1.

What will he be—a hero or a goat? You never can tell from hearing what he has done in other big games of his career.

Frank Wilton first pulled a costly blunder in the Stanford-Alabama game at Pasadena on January 1, 1927. One error of his gave Alabama a chance to tie the score and the southpaw did. And yet, in the same game, it was Wilton's alertness that saved the Cardinals from defeat!

Block Kick Fatal
Mr. Wilton, late in the game, was calling signals for Stanford. His team was ahead, 7-0, with about two minutes to play, and Stanford had possession of the ball. Wilton ran two plays against the line and they failed.

He might have played safe and kicked another play. It failed. He decided to kick, but stood so close to the line in doing so that his kick was blocked and bounced back to about 15 yards from his own goal post and Alabama rushed over a touchdown and kicked goal to tie the score.

On the last play of the game, an Alabama back was carrying the ball when the whistle shot. Most of the Alabama players and Stanford, too, stopped. Not the man carrying the ball nor Wilton. The Alabamian kept going towards the goal and had Wilton not been awake and stopped him—well, Mr. Wilton was awake.

When Southern California was playing Stanford in 1927, Wilton made a mechanical error early in the game. He fumbled the ball—and a Trojan and picked it up and ran for a touchdown. Later in the game, Wilton made himself a "Biff" Hoffman and scored a touchdown. The game ended, 13-13.

That Pittsburgh-Stanford Game
Last January 1 was another eventful day for Mr. Wilton. He constantly shifted his status from hero to goat all during the game.

After knocking down a pass early in the game that stopped a Pittsburgh drive to touchdown, Mr. Wilton fumbled on his own 20-yard line and Hagan, Pitt full-

MOHLER-REBOIN DUEL OFFERS HUMAN INTEREST FEATURE TO BIG PREP GRIDIRON STRUGGLE

By GRIDDER
If you get bilious when you ride in automobiles you can save yourself a lot of anxiety and a trip to Alhambra Saturday by answering correctly these two questions:
Can Alhambra stop Al Reboin?
Can Santa Ana stop Orv Mohler?

For that football show will array until the teams line up for the kickoff.

In early season games Orv always started at quarterback, giving way his position to Norman when victory was assured. Against Pasadena, one of Alhambra's most important contests, Norman started and was relieved by Orv at the psychological moment. In the Glendale tussle last week, however, Hobbs started BOTH Mohlers, Norman playing halfback and doing a beautiful job of passing and receiving passes. Maybe they'll both play against Santa Ana at the same time too.

But we'll have to wait until Saturday to see the great showdown—the Mohlers vs. Reboin—to the big feature in the main tent—Alhambra vs. Santa Ana.

WILLARD ELEVEN IN GAME AT FULLERTON

The Julia Lathrop junior high school football team was scheduled to play its second game with the Fullerton high school Class B team this afternoon on the Fullerton field.

The Spartans lost their first game to Fullerton earlier in the season by a two-point margin and because of their inability to add the extra point after touchdown.

Today's game will be the last one for the South Main street team before its final "Big Game" of the year against Frances Willard junior high school. This game will be played a week from today at Poly field.

Lathrop will have to make a certain weight limit and at the present time Coach Scott is much concerned as to whether three of his largest boys will be able to play. "Plug" Richards, star fullback, as well as two linemen, J. P. Parsons and Charles Dyer, all weigh too much to conform with the Willard requirements.

Lewis Confident Of Beating Jones
LOS ANGELES, Nov. 21.—Both contenders were declared in tip-top shape today for the titular struggle to be staged here tonight between Ed ("Strangler") Lewis, monarch of the world's wrestlers, and Paul Jones, lanky Texas behemoth. In the pink of condition, the "Strangler" exuded the superb confidence in his own prowess that has always marked his attitude on the eve of a contest.

Saint-Moor Title Game Begins 2:15

Saturday's championship football game at Alhambra between the Santa Ana and Alhambra high schools will begin at 2:15 instead of 2:30 p.m.

This arrangement has been agreed on because of the possibility that frequent time-outs might cause part of the game to be played in the dusk.

The usual preliminary struggle between the Class C (110-pound) squads of the same schools will begin at 12:15 p.m., instead of at 12:45, it was learned.

HERNANDEZ AND CHAVEZ BATTLE HERE TONIGHT

The sensational winning streak of Zenaydo Chavez, young Santa Ana Mexican fistic sensation, may be stopped abruptly tonight when he meets the long-armed and long-legged Leo Hernandez, winner of a series of elimination bouts to determine a legitimate challenger for Chavez's Western Amateur Athletic association championship belt.

Hernandez and Chavez headline the boxing card at the Orange County Athletic club at Delhi, the same card that was to have been conducted at the Henry Foust beak-

Main event—Zenaydo Chavez vs. Leo Hernandez, 145 pounds.
Semi-windup—Hoyt Porter vs. Romeo Lemon, 145 pounds.
Preliminaries—Tony Moreno vs. Morris Nathan, 120 pounds; Paul Gomez vs. Jerry Merryweather, 145 pounds; Yankee Smith vs. Lou Magee, 170 pounds; Bob Douglas vs. Frank Jones, 140 pounds; Ignacio Duran vs. George Peeke, 125 pounds.

breaking shop last Wednesday but was postponed on account of threatening weather.

Chavez has lost only three bouts in his entire career of some 30 contests and never has been beaten here but it is doubtful if Kid Mexico's phenom ever has faced as strong an adversary as Hernandez. The latter, it will be recalled, won the right to box Chavez by eliminating Ace Marks, flashy colored mitt man.

Romeo Lemon, Fullerton high school's contribution to the main art, gets a rugged colored battler from the University of Southern California, Hoyt Porter, in the semi-final.

Tony Moreno, clever Placentia youngster, and Morris Nathan, a local favorite, box the feature preliminary.

HANDBALL COURTS ARE LAID AT H. S.

Handball soon will come into its own at Santa Ana high school with the laying of a large handball court.

In the past, handball enthusiasts were compelled to use any vacant wall or go elsewhere for their sport. With this condition remedied, handball will soon rise and challenge other sports.

Walter L. Scott, supervisor of physical education in the Santa Ana schools, has charge of the court. The cement foundation was laid during summer vacation and is located just south of the print shop and adjacent to the practice football field. Carpenters have been busy the last few days building the backstop and side walls and players can be accommodated in a few days, it was learned.

WAS RIGHT ON JOB
George Knothe, shortstop for the Tulsa Oilers this year, started 78 double plays for his team and figured in 187 during the year.

PRACTICE WITH WET BALL
Officials at New York University often wet the football for the men to practice with in order to get them accustomed to handling a slippery ball.

TEAM EQUIPPED WITH PLAYS TO BEAT ALHAMBRA

Inoculated with an intense desire for victory and the championship of the Coast Preparatory league which it has been so near and yet so far in three of the last four seasons, Santa Ana high school has mobilized every ounce of its football man-power in preparation for "The Battle of the Year" at Alhambra Saturday.

Surrounded by the "Two Bills" and the "Two Clydes"—Bill Cook, Bill Foote, Clyde Cook and Clyde Patton—who coach other Santa Ana teams, Coach "Tex" Oliver put his Saints through an afternoon of technical warfare yesterday and after it was all over this dawned on the little circle of onlookers:

Oliver will send on the Alhambra gridiron the best equipped offensive machine that ever has represented Santa Ana high school for any one game.

They Have the Plays
The Saints may not be able to make good with their equipment. That is up to them. But they certainly have the plays and if they make them work, even for one sustained drive, Santa Ana fans will be treated to as nicely a diversified attack, combining both running plays and forward passes, as the average big college team can present on parade.

Plays that have been "nursed" all year for this one big shot are going to be brought out from under the table to test the strength of the Alhambra defense. Reverse plays, forward passes from reverses, triple passes and forward and lateral passes from them, cut-backs, fake reverses, end-arounds and even a fake triple pass are being brushed up for the Moor entanglement.

Oliver had the Saints rehearsing mostly on their forward passing and it is likely that the coach intends to capitalize to the fullest extent on the shooting ability of Al Reboin. "Red" Cooke, Don Crumley, Captain "Doc" Hearn or Clarence Spencer are all liable to be on the receiving end. The Moore probably will watch Cooke rather sharply as he has been taking most of the throws from Reboin in other games but the other three moys are expert receivers too.

Harold Fangle, who is a good blocker, was used in the first string backfield for quite a stretch and it is possible that he will see considerable service. Oliver was not satisfied with the interference that Jack Fredericks, his regular full back, was running and at the windup was utilizing a backfield composed of Reboin, Spencer, Crumley and Fangle. If this combination starts it will present three sophomores and one junior, Spencer being the furthest advanced of the quartet.

Berry Replaces Hearn
Cooke and Hearn were on the wings but Hearn, who was bruised and banged up a bit in the Pasadena game, gave way later to George Berry, a letterman, who is in good shape again after a lengthy period of inactivity due to a bad leg.

With Frank Wurster and Alfred Poulsen both ailing temporarily, Wurster with a charley-horse and Poulsen with a torn knee ligament, Stanley Hardin, Glenn Hartman and Warren Dubois worked at the first string tackle positions. There still is considerable doubt who will draw Oliver's nod at Alhambra. Wurster and Hardin are favored by the railbirds in view of Poulsen's injury but the 240-pounder is a hard baby to take out of a play and Oliver may start him and see how he holds up.

Barring unforeseen developments, Gene Olsen and Kenneth Manderscheid will be at guard and Curt Youel at center.

HAVE GIVEN UP HOPE
Detroit officials are said to have reached the conclusion that Sam Gibson, their big right-handed pitcher, will never be a star in the American league. He may be let out soon.

JACK SHARKEYS CRASH SOCIETY IN REAL CLASS

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—The Tunney influence, committed to betterment and uplift among vegetating ears, has claimed a prominent convert, according to audible gossip that filtered up the backstairs from the servants' quarters today. The Jack Sharkey, of Boston, have joined the young married set of and contiguous to Chestnut Hill, were field trials in suburban swank are held daily. They are preparing to exchange neighborly calls.

Mr. Sharkey, whose name attained considerable prominence in the newspapers several years ago in a professional way, has purchased a $50,000 home in this exclusive domain of the idle rich and, having been sponsored by the action of established millions, is in a position to bow formally whenever bowed to. Meanwhile, his managing director, Mr. John Buckley, has been most conspicuous at Boston's "first nights."

Of the theater, Mr. Buckley being a man of very commanding presence, his white shirt front alone has been the cynosure of many envious eyes. Mr. Buckley is not one to neglect the amenities of his position as associate of Mr. Sharkey, of the Chestnut Hill Sharkeys.

Work on the latter's estate is going forward apace, I am informed and soon his imposing residence will be furnished in taste; also in some opulence. It is said that Mr. Sharkey has taken it "on the nut" to the amount of $20,000 in order to give his new home just the proper background.

The expression in question was used by a young society man from Revere Beach. It isn't likely that Mr. Sharkey would know him.

In the rear of that estate is a four-car garage and, of course, the servants' quarters must be kept up because he help nowadays are so independent. It's a problem, really.

Another problem, for I know, will revolve around the question of whether the butler should wear livery or just plain black. The latter is more dignified. The chauffeurs, of course, can have the third car on nights off and cook and the scullery maid will be allowed visitors up to 11 o'clock on Tuesday and Thursday evenings. The housekeeper will be held to strict accountability for the enforcement of discipline within the menage.

Mr. Sharkey will be at home but not always. He has his duty to his public. This he will perform from time to time throughout a busy winter season, democratically stripping to the waist like any commoner. He thus will have his moments when he will mix freely with the man in the street; also with the man in the ring. Always well to see how the other half lives, you know.

In closing, I wish to state that I am against the further conversion of vegetating ears. I make this protest from motives purely selfish. Who am I to demand a working press seat at the next heavyweight championship fight with all the society editors to be taken care of?

STANFORD BACK IS OFTEN HERO-GOAT

back, recovered it and went for a touchdown. Had that game ended then, it would have been another "goat" game for Wilton.

Well, the game went on and Mr. Wilton emerged the hero.

Late in the game, Wilton called a play in which he was to pass to Bob Sims, another back, and Sims was to go over tackle. Wilton threw the pass but Sims fumbled and, like a real Frank Merriwell, Wilton came along, caught the ball on the second bounce, evaded Welch and Hagan and scored a touchdown! Hoffman's place-kick won the game.

This is more or less of a warning to California and to Army that this young fellow is likely to be a 100 per cent hero in some game before he hangs up his cleats. And that game may be against California and it may be against Army. It's a cinch he won't be "just another player" in those games.

23 REPORT FOR CASABA PRACTICE

A home-and-home series has been definitely arranged with Orange the team that the Saints had such a hard time beating last winter. The game on January 27 will be at Orange while the February 17 contest will be here.

The players who were out in suit included Russell Sullivan, John Smith, Paul Wright, Joseph Freninger, Marvin Johnston, Edward Miller, Art Jordanman, Ed Strepper, Bruce Smith, Harold League, Leland Mescham, Ernie Peters, Clyde Shifflet, Monroe Birdsall, Richard White, Rutherford Williams, Bill Kistingier, Burvett Smith, Leo Gaspar and Harry Merchant.

FIGHT RESULTS

At Cleveland—George Courtney, Oklahoma cowboy, stopped Charley Belanger, Canadian light heavyweight, (6).

At Indianapolis—Johnny Mason, Scranton, Pa., middleweight, drew with Johnny Burns, of San Francisco, (10).

At Camden, N. J.—Matt Adgie, Philadelphia heavyweight, stopped Willie Walker, New York, (9).
At New York—Dominick Petrone, New York featherweight, won decision over Al Goldberg, also of New York, (10).

MEETS CHARGES ON HIS KNEES

Enrique Torres, the Babe Ruth of the bull-fighting game in Spain, here is pictured in a thrilling moment of a contest. Dodging the charge of the infuriated bull with nice precision, Torres has slipped to his knees and tauntingly waves his cape before those long horns, which are about to miss him by a hair's breadth.

FOOTBALL

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 21.—(INS)—Five pounds lighter in weight, Don Williams, the Trojans' bid for All-American honors today was back on Bovard field, practicing with his teammates. As the result of his week's siege of influenza "Dynamic Don" is still a trifle weak, but steady exercise and training, it is trusted, will bring him back to his old power and speed by the time the game with Notre Dame on December 1 rolls around.

Don, it is fairly certain, will not be used in the game with Idaho Saturday. Marshall Duffield, who gathered unto himself thousands of praise for his work in last Saturday's tilt with Washington State, probably will occupy Williams' quarterback berth in the Idaho game.

Bert Ritchey, San Diego Negro, probably will start again at end.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 21.—One of the largest crowds ever to witness a football game on the Pacific Coast was expected to be in attendance here Saturday at the Stanford-California contest.

Night club proprietors and hotel managers today prepared to accommodate the huge crowd of merry-makers who will celebrate the night of the game regardless of the winner.

At least 85,000 persons will throng into the stadium at Berkeley while an additional 10,000 will watch the game from the hills that surround the stadium.

This will be the thirty-fourth time Stanford and California have opposed each other on the gridiron.

PALO ALTO, Nov. 21.—Gloom deepened down "on the farm" today when word went about that Walter Heinicke, center, probably would be unable to participate in the big game with California Saturday.

Heinicke was taken to the hospital suffering with a light attack of influenza.

Three other Cardinals on the sick list—Sellman, Sims and Worden—are expected to be able to play.

CHICAGO, Nov. 21.—Wisconsin, now the leader in the 1928 Big Ten championship race, will carry a heavy handicap in Saturday's game with Minnesota.

Not only will the Badgers be meeting one of the strongest teams in the conference, but they must overcome two jinxes which have stopped all other title aspirants:

1. The Badgers will enter the game as the favorite over their opponent.
2. The Badgers will meet an opponent which has been especially "keyed" for the game, whereas Wisconsin was forced to "key" last week against Iowa.

Ordinarily the first factor would not be especially important, but records show that the favorite in almost every important game this season has not won.

These upsets can be attributed partly to overconfidence—a condition which undoubtedly will not prevail at the Wisconsin camp. The second handicap cannot be guarded against.

Such masters of the art as Knute Rockne and Bob Zuppke declare a team can be "keyed" to its highest pitch not more than twice in a season, and that a "keyed" team generally is below standard the following week.

HANOVER, N. H., Nov. 21.—After a final drill today the Dartmouth squad will depart for Evanston, Ill., where the green plays Northwestern Saturday. Captain Black and Breitbut, injured backs, are expected to be in shape by game time.

PRINCETON, N. J., Nov. 21.—Old man gloom is talking the Princeton campus today. Capt. Chuck Howe, who starred in the Tigers' triumph over Yale, and Quarterback Norman are indisposed and may not get into the Navy game.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Nov. 21.—On the eve of the Yale game, Harvard's football team is enveloped in the cloak of mystery and secrecy demanded by tradition. Secret practice has been inaugurated at Soldiers' field.

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—One hundred and twenty pounds of New York university dynamite will go into action against Carnegie Tech at Pittsburgh Saturday when "Bud" Hornell, midwest Violet fullback, skirts the Skibo ends. Coach Mehan now plans to start Hornell, one of the fastest players in the East, in place of Follet.

REPUBLIC DIES IN CHINA WITH RISE OF PARTY

BY D. C. BESS

(United Press Staff Correspondent)
PEKING, Nov. 20.—(UP)—The Chinese Republic, which was founded in 1911 with world-acclaim, has now been completely scrapped. Few foreigners, even in China, realize how thoroughly the job has been done. China today is ruled by a party autocracy, and obviously there is no intention of restoring a president, a parliament, or the old Republican constitution.

In the new National government, however, which is really a Kuomintang government (Nationalist Party), sympathetic observers find much greater hope for an eventual stable government than at any time since the Manchus abdicated. The Kuomintang leaders appear to be striving toward setting up an aristocracy in China, to rule the country until such time as the common people shall be fitted for self-rule.

There is no pretence of representative government in China today. Kuomintang leaders talk much about the people, but in the future, not in the present tense. Certainly they appear to be facing facts much more directly than the original revolutionists who established the Republic in 1911.

Largely illiterate

Dr. Sun Yat-sen and his followers originally believed that the Chinese people could take up representative government just like that in the United States or the most progressive European countries. This belief made a farce of the government of the Republic for many years. The Chinese people knew nothing about self-government, except in an extremely local sense. More than 90 per cent of them cannot read or write their own language or any other.

After repeated failures, Dr. Sun turned to the Soviet government of Russia as a possible solution for China. He died before discovering his mistake, but his followers have repudiated Communism even more emphatically than they did western representative government. Unless there is a complete change of present plans, China will become neither a Republic nor a Communist state for generations.

The only persons who have any say in the Nationalist government at Nanking are members of the Kuomintang and the warlords. Some of the warlords are also members of the Kuomintang, including Marshals Feng Yu-shiang, Yen Hsi-shan, Li Tsung-jen and Chiang Kai-shek. The Kuomintang is being very careful how it enlists members. All candidates must pass examinations showing acquaintance with all types of government and with the principles laid down by Sun Yat-sen, the Nationalist patron saint.

No Chinese Constitution
The Kuomintang and also the Nationalist government are ruled by the Central Executive Committee of 35 members, which is elected by a party congress held once each month, representing members of the Kuomintang both in China and in foreign countries. This Central Executive Committee names the heads of the nine Nationalist ministries and of the five boards, as well as the military council which is supposed to control the armies.

At the present time there is no constitution in China, as the permanent constitution of the Republic, promulgated in 1923, has been scrapped. The Kuomintang is at work on a provisional constitution which is expected to serve during the present period of "political tutelage." Dr. Sun declared that the Chinese revolution must be divided into three periods, those of revolution, education, and representative government. Many Kuomintang leaders believe that the revolutionary period is nearing an end, and that the educational period will occupy the attention of the party for many years to come.

The hope of China today obviously lies in the Kuomintang. This party continues, even if the Nationalist government should be overthrown. The party has split before and many split again. There may be rebellions by various warlords unsympathetic to the Kuomintang ideals, which will result in civil wars. But the nucleus of the Kuomintang, which is the essence of Chinese Nationalism, will be very hard to destroy. This appears to be a permanent force, which may mean the eventual salvation of China.

The hope of China today obviously lies in the Kuomintang.

Now that all the shouting and ballyhoo has died down, as far as Santa Ana is concerned, Coach Bill Cook is taking stock of the men who will be with him next season to play junior college football here. The prospects right now are pretty bright provided all the freshmen come back next season that were on the squad this year. Undoubtedly there will be some who will not return but there will be enough new material coming up from the prep schools to replace the absentees.

Eleven men who will be definitely lost to the team through graduation are Woodington, captain and center; Morten tackle; Edwards, guard; Casey, guard; Hafer, end; Griswold, guard; Norton, quarter; Guyer, half; Stein, tackle; Weaverling, guard; Harris, half.

This is quite a bunch of regulars to lose and undoubtedly leaves the team weakened but with the reserve strength he had this season to start with next year Cook looks forward to build a powerful team around the returning lettermen. On the line he will have Hylton McLean, Crawford, Miles, Stump, Warner, Warner Harvey and Clapp and in the backfield will have Rimel, Dugger, Manderschedl, Rust, Goodbody, Lusk, Sweetnam and probably a lot of new material from the high schools to supplement these men on the line and in the backfield.

WOULD COST $85,000
Experts value the worth of the five players sent to the Boston Braves by the Chicago Cubs at $85,000.

TALBERT

TALBERT, Nov. 21.—Through the efforts of Sunday school pupils of Talbert, there was an increase in attendance last Sunday morning and it is hoped to raise the school standard materially before the close of the contest which has just opened. Sides were chosen in the school, with Paul Penrod and Cleon Sauters as captains of the "Reds" and the "Blues." The "Reds" has more new pupils Sunday. The contest lasts three months and the winning side is to give a "feed" for the losers.

A special musical number, a cornet solo, was given at the evening church service by Allene Armstrong, of Sunset Beach, Miss Dorothy Rogers accompanying at the piano.

Mrs. S. E. Talbert gave a birthday dinner Sunday at her home honoring her mother, Mrs. M. L. Thurman, whose birthday anniversary was Monday of this week, and Mrs. Fred Penrod, who recently celebrated an anniversary. Those in the company included the two honor guests, Mrs. Thurman and Mrs. Penrod, Mrs. Penrod and the son and two daughters of the Penrod family, Paul, Louie and Juanita; the other members of the party being the son and daughters of Mrs. Thurman and their children, Mr. and Mrs. William Brady and children, Lloyd, Loraine and Val Brady, of Ingiewood; Mr. and Mrs. John Pettitt, of Whittier, who were week end guests; Mrs. Ben Rogers and daughters, Dorothy, Rose and Violet Rogers, and the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Talbert.

Mrs. Thurman was delighted with the gift of a large easy chair, a gift from her children, and a lovely pillow for it from Mrs. Penrod.

Irene Callens is convalescing from an attack of influenza and was able to ride out Monday for the first time since her illness.

Mrs. Sam Bland is confined to her home by illness this week. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Landis and son, Leslie, were guests for a day of Mrs. Landis' brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lacabanne.

Miss Aileen Armstrong was a Sunday guest of Miss Rose Rogers.

Bank of Italy is helping to keep California "white" on the Nation's business map.

NATIONAL SURVEYS each month show that, year after year, California continues to be a permanent "white spot" on the business map of the United States, due, in part, to the existence of proper and adequate banking service. The Bank of Italy—because of its great statewide organization, reaching every important agricultural, industrial and commercial center of the State—and its great fund of banking capital—has been able to give timely financial aid to every section of California. Great California industries—particularly fruit growing, agriculture, dairying and stockraising—have been financed and sustained during marketing periods by the state's largest bank. Bank of Italy will continue to aid in keeping the nation's "white spot" white.

FOUR GLADIATORS BROADCAST TONIGHT

In the cheery, congenial atmosphere of the Pals club, the "Four Gladiators" will "Cheer With Isuan" again when this program is broadcast through stations of the NBC system tonight from 8:30 to 9 o'clock.

The "Four Gladiators"—individually known as "Brick," "Tut," "Babe" and "Pewee"—are former stars of football teams of past seasons and are ardent followers of the gridiron games and players of the present. Football, consequently, forms their chief topic of conversation and in between their comments they entertain listeners with songs.

Auditors who tune in stations KFI, Los Angeles, KHQ, Spokane; KOMO, Seattle; KGW, Portland; KGO, Oakland; and KPO, San Francisco, will hear "Cheer With Isuan."

STANFORD-CALIFORNIA GAME WILL BE BROADCAST BY KFI

Those football fans who are not so fortunate as to have tickets for the annual big game between the University of California and Stanford University in the U. C. Memorial stadium next Saturday afternoon have only to tune in their radios on KFI, Los Angeles, for a complete broadcast for the classic.

KPO, San Francisco, will give an exclusive broadcast of the contest between the two great gridiron rivals, and KFI will rebroadcast in Southern California.

Tune in and hear a play-by-play report of the game; hear the roar of the crowd, the bands, college songs and yells; even the rooting section stunts will be described. Every detail, big or small, will be told the fans.

KGO WILL FEATURE SCHUBERT'S WORKS

Schubert works to be played by the Parisians over KGO at 8 o'clock tonight include "Schubert Songs," "Moment Musical," ballet music from "Rosamunde," "Ave Maria" and "Marche Militaire."

"Rosamunde," the ballet music to which the Parisian string trio will play, was a romantic drama to which Schubert contributed an overture and some incidental music. The play failed and Schubert's music finally was lost. Many years after the famous Vienna composer's death, the original manuscript was discovered after a long search by Sir George Grove, compiler of the famous dictionary, and Sir Arthur Sullivan, of "Pinafore" fame.

The whole world is paying homage to Schubert this week, commemorating the 100th anniversary of his death.

KNRC's Monicker Changed To KMT, But Power Same

If you have tuned in on station KTM in the last couple of nights don't think you have reached out to some new broadcaster, for you haven't—it's just an old one under a new name.

KNRC, Santa Monica, officially became KMT Monday night, but its frequency, power and location on the dial remain the same.

KMT announced today that Henry Halstead's orchestra, now featured from that station, will be replaced on November 29 by Cass Ha-

FRENCH GIRL GLIDES*

PARIS, Nov. 21.—(UP)—French girls are the world's most graceful walkers, according to the judgment of the audience at a Paris theater where an international walking contest has been staged. American, British, German and other show girls entered were not placed. M. Mariot, promoter of the contest, declared the secret of the French girl's walk was that she doesn't walk—she glides!

School Board Enters Into Contract With Architects

LYLE RECEIVES LONG DELAYED VALOR MEDAL

Although 10 years have passed since the World war and Henry J. Lyle, Santa Ana photographer, has done everything possible to forget the five major engagements in which he participated without receiving a scratch, it seems that memories just must return to him.

This week he was reminded of it again when he received his second Croix de Guerre, awarded by the French government for his part in the battle of Blanc Mont Ridge, in 1918.

Leslie Lyle, a brother, residing in Helena, Mont., recently sent him a newspaper clipping with the announcement that the latest medal was in Kelo, Wn., his former home, waiting for him.

Receiving medals is nothing new for the Santa Ana ex-service man, however. He received a citation from General Pershing on one occasion and twice was mentioned in general orders for conspicuous action under fire. Most of his activities in the war, however, were with the French army, on detached service, and the French government awarded him a Croix de Guerre in 1918. Lyle served with the Americans at St. Mihiel.

Another distinction the Santa Ana Legionnaire holds is that he went through five major engagements to come out without an injury of any kind. He lives at 815 Orange avenue.

AIR FLAPPER

Miss Caroline Lozier, 16, is the first girl student to enroll in the flying school opened at the University of Miami. This co-educational air course is believed to be the first offered by any university. Miss Lozier is to be official mascot of the Miami Air Derby, to be held in January.

PLANNING BODY GETS BACKING IN PLACENTIA

PLACENTIA, Nov. 21.—At the request of Tom Pickrell, head of the planning committee of the Associated Chambers of Commerce, the Placentia Chamber of Commerce voted to endorse the proposed Orange County Planning commission at the regular meeting Tuesday.

Supervisor Schumacher has promised to come over to Placentia and investigate the stop sign situation here, Pickrell stated.

Plans were made to hold the annual meeting of the chamber of commerce the evening of January 9, the dinner being served at the Round Table club.

A notice was given to the effect that a joint committee composed of representatives of the Native Daughters, civic committee of the chamber of commerce and the school board would meet at the close of the next chamber of commerce meeting and arrange for moving the old school house, which is to be preserved as a landmark.

Guests of the day were Harold Welsh, of Anaheim; George Macleod, secretary of the Newport Harbor Chamber of Commerce and the Associated Chambers of Commerce; Oliver Crowell and Walker Davis, of Brea; Fred Craig, of Brea, assemblyman-elect; Nelson Edwards, of Orange, senator-elect.

At the close of the meeting the educational committee and trustees of the local school met with Craig and Edwards and placed before them some of the school problems, which have been under discussion. Gilbert Kraemer presided over the meeting in the absence of A. S. Bradford.

WESTERN LOAN FIRM'S ASSETS SHOW INCREASE

Charles W. Amos, district managing director of Western Loan and Building company and president of Amos Western Mortgage company, accompanied by R. P. Clapp, cashier at the San Diego office, were visitors here this week, inspecting the recently acquired and remodeled offices of the Santa Ana branch at 310 North Broadway.

Both expressed their confidence in the future prospects of Orange county and commented favorably on the present outlook. The Amos Western Mortgage company reports total assets, as of Oct. 31, 1928, of $268,800, while the Western Loan and Building company, one of the largest building and loan associations in western America, shows resources, as of the same date, exceeding $25,400,000, being an increase of over $1,500,000 since July 1, last. This company has operated in Orange county for the last five years through George A. Ragan, of the Ragan Mortgage company, which business recently was consolidated with the Amos Western Mortgage company.

Construction loans have been featured, but straight three-year mortgage loans, as well as monthly installment loans to help build, buy or refinance, hereafter also will be handled through the Santa Ana office. The "Western" pays six per cent on savings.

Full paid certificates, yielding six to seven per cent, and accumulative installment accounts, yielding six per cent compounded monthly, also are featured.

M. B. Geeting is in active charge as manager of the office here. He formerly was associated with the company's San Diego office and previous to that time was for 20 years connected with a large trust company in the east as its treasurer.

Riverside Rotary To Hear Morrow On Child Relief

Rotarians of Riverside today will learn of Orange county's method of caring for crippled children. E. S. Morrow, superintendent here of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company and a prominent worker in the Crippled Children's Relief association, and Mrs. Gertrude Crowell, superintendent of the Orange County Crippled Children's Relief association will speak before the Riverside Rotary club today on the work in Orange county.

Two crippled children, Katherine Deydsale, of Santa Ana, and Joyce Dillingham, of Orange, will be included in the party visiting the Riverside club, and also will talk to the Riverside Rotarians. Hugh Rummels, of Tustin, and Mrs. Cecil Frost Willis, of Santa Ana, will sing.

The first automatic central office in the Paris telephone network was opened recently. Eventually all of the telephones in Paris will be converted to the dial system.

Direct telephone connections between Budapest and Constantinople will be established within the next few months.

GERMANS SUCCOR STRICKEN

Racing to the scene in response to the SOS call of the sinking Vestril, officers of the S. S. Berlin, of the North German Lloyd line, proved themselves heroes by rescuing 25 survivors from the sea. Medical aid, hot food and warm clothing were given to those taken from the drifting lifeboats. Above are the officers of the Berlin, photographed as the rescue ship docked at New York. In the center (with the mustache) is Capt. H. Von Thuelen, the skipper, who personally directed the rescue work.

EMPLOYMENT DEPENDS UPON BONDS SUCCESS

The Santa Ana board of education late yesterday entered into a contract with Allison and Allison, school architects, whereby the latter will be employed on a school building program in case such a project gets under way in the Santa Ana school district. A tentative agreement was reached last Thursday and yesterday's action was a final step in the matter.

Employment of the architects relates only to the first bond issue for school buildings to be voted on after signing of the contract and not to any subsequent ones, it was pointed out in the contract. Their fees were set in the contract at six per cent but this remuneration can be collected only in case a bond election for school building is approved by the people.

The firm of Allison and Allison specializes in school, college, church and institutional buildings and has practiced in California for the last 18 years. Both members of the firm are fellows of the American Institute of Architects and past presidents of the Southern California chapter of the organization. The firm has planned 275 schools in California and Arizona, erected at a cost of approximately $20,000,000.

As resident architects of the new University of California in Los Angeles they have under construction the new buildings in Westwood in conjunction with the university supervising architect. They were architects for the group of 10 buildings known as the Southern Branch on Vermont avenue, Los Angeles, erected in 1913 as the Los Angeles State Normal school and later taken over by the University of California. The firm also has been retained for the Los Angeles university at Del Rey, estimated to cost $5,000,000.

In addition to school and college work, Allison and Allison have planned in Los Angeles such structures as the University club, Friday Morning club, Women's Athletic club, First Baptist church and First Unitarian church. They are engaged on plans for the First Congregational church and height limit office buildings for the Los Angeles Bar association and Southern California Edison company. The latter building will cost $2,500,000.

As a result of an agreement between the authorities of French Equatorial Africa and the Belgian Congo, telephone and telegraph lines are to be laid across the Congo river, between French East Africa and Belgian Congo.

Two fur coats, valued at almost $1500, were stolen by a burglar who last night broke into the home of Robert Reed, of 2421 Heliopole drive, North Broadway Park, while members of the family were away from home, according to a report made early this morning to the police department.

GROWERS TO OPPOSE ROCK, GRAVEL PLANT

Rumors to the effect that Pasadena capital is behind an organization ready to erect a rock, gravel and sand plant near the Williams ranch, in San Juan Capistrano, in the near future, has stirred the fruit growers in that vicinity, according to word received here today.

The growers are of the opinion, it was said, that the proposed plant will cause damage to their groves, inasmuch dust would be blown over their trees. They anticipate taking legal action against the erecting of the plant if necessary, it was declared.

FOR THE FAMILY THAT DISLIKES MILK

Thin white sauce made with evaporated milk is the base for cream soups. In the Cream of Tomato Soup given below we have a splendid way of getting the members of the family who dislike milk to consume part of their daily quota.

Cream of Tomato Soup
1 tablespoon butter
1 tablespoon flour
1 cup evaporated milk
1 cup water
Salt and pepper to taste.
2 cups canned tomatoes
1 minced onion
3 whole cloves
Sprigs of parsley
Bit of bay leaf.

Blend butter and flour and make a thin cream sauce with the milk and water, season nicely and keep hot in a double boiler. Cook the tomatoes, onion and other seasonings for 15 minutes, rub through a sieve and measure to make 2 cupsful, add water to make full measure if necessary. Reheat, add a tiny pinch of soda, and when the bubbling stops combine with the cream sauce.

Where the unusual flavors are liked a couple of tablespoons of MINCED CLAMS added to the finished soup attains the effect. There are four servings in this recipe.

TODAY'S RECIPE

Rabbit Pie
1 rabbit (3 pounds)
1/2 pound sliced raw ham
3 hard-boiled eggs
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon white pepper
A sprinkle of powdered mace
1/4 teaspoon grated nutmeg
1 cup hot water
1 cup rich gravy
Paste for top crust.

In certain portions of the country wild rabbit will soon be coming into the markets in loads; it was from this source that the old-fashioned Rabbit Pie was made, but today we look to the Belgian Hare for our rabbit—but wherever we get it, it's good!

Prepare the rabbit by removing the bones from the legs and breast bone and stripping the thin meat from the ribs. Put these bones to cook with onion and water for the gravy.
Use a round, deep baking dish. Mix all the dry seasonings together, put the rabbit, raw ham, cut paper-thin, and slices of eggs in layers, sprinkling each layer with the seasonings.
Over this pour a cupful of hot water and cover with a blanket of rich pie crust, leaving a hole in the center for the escape of steam. Bake slowly for 1 1/2 hours, cover the top with paper to prevent browning too much.

Just before sending the pie to the table lift the crust carefully and pour in a cup or more of good rich gravy. This gravy is made with the broth from the rabbit bones, thickened with flour and a big piece of butter.

I can think of worse things than a Rabbit Pie like this for Thanksgiving or Christmas dinner. The pie will serve five people and the individual calorie total is about 400.

What's in a can of evaporated milk? All kinds of things, good health for one, convenience for another, delicious foods and—Well, just send us a stamped, self-addressed envelope and let us send you back this interesting leaflet.

TOMORROW we'll have Stuffed Cauliflower: This is both vegetable and meat combined in the same dish and unusually good.

ANN MEREDITH.

Woman's Club Devotes Afternoon to Study Of Child Welfare

"Child Welfare and Public Health" provided one of the winter's most interesting programs for members of Santa Ana Woman's club when they met yesterday afternoon in the parish rooms of the Church of the Messiah, with Mrs. Howard Clemens in the president's chair.

Dr. Evalene Peo, Mrs. E. C. Wilson and Mrs. Ernest Allen as members of the program committee, had made a round of the city and county institutions in preparation for the afternoon, and Dr. Peo gave a most interesting talk on the diseases that most frequently attack childhood, and which have come to be designated as children's diseases.

At the conclusion of her remarks, she introduced Miss Lillian Fitzpatrick, head of the social service department of the Orange County hospital, whose informally presented address was on the aims of its work, especially as regards crippled children of the county.

Miss Fitzpatrick explained that the county had chosen to assume the responsibility of treating the children crippled congenitally or through infantile paralysis, or accident, in place of sending them to Los Angeles as used to be the custom. Dr. Herbert A. Johnston of Anaheim, Dr. Cowles of Fullerton, and Dr. J. M. Burlew of this city, give their services to Dr. Harry Zaiser and the medical staff of the hospital, and Dr. John Wilson, son of Mrs. C. C. Wilson, 1022 West Fifth street, and one of the most noted specialists of Los Angeles, gives his services as a consultant.

When an orthopaedic case reports to the hospital for aid and treatment, the patient is given every kind of physical test, according to Miss Fitzpatrick, who stated that the clinical examination includes eye, ear, nose, throat, dental and other details. Treatment is given for all disability and continues with massage and expert care for several years. The physiotherapist who continues this work, is the only paid member of the group, but gives her entire time to the work, visiting the little patients in their homes. Pictures were shown illustrating corrective measures used, and the progress of the children towards health.

Adults needing the care of the county hospital, are expected to pay a minimum part of their expenses unless completely indigent. These are called "border line cases" according to the speaker, who explained that many patients were accepted who could not afford the expenses of a regular hospital and attendant medical and nursing treatment. Later when these patients are discharged and are able to resume their work, they repay the county hospital the small sum asked for care. This is in accordance with the state law governing cases accepted at a county institution.

In accepting patients, a social service history and home investigations are made; income, the size and responsibility of family, the probable cost of adequate treatment, are all considered. The minimum cost per day is $2.50, according to the speaker.

The work with crippled children which is directed by an organization of which Earl Morrow is head, is accomplishing one of the biggest things ever done in the county, according to Miss Fitzpatrick. There is one need however, that has not yet been recognized she declared, and that is for a teacher for these children, who while undergoing treatment, are completely out of school, but are practically all of unusual mentality.

Remembering the speaker's closing words, "When you are doing something that will re-build a little child's body, you are doing one of the biggest works in the world," the interested clubwomen voted to devote some of their Christmas giving to the county hospital, and also presented the crippled children's fund with a gift of ten dollars.

Delightful Tea Follows Mrs. Tessmann's Review

Honore Willis Morrow's biography of "Mary Todd Lincoln" was reviewed by Mrs. John Tessmann yesterday afternoon at a meeting of the Book Review section of the Ebell society which was held in the hospitable home of Mrs. E. D. White, 2115 North Broadway.

Mrs. Tessmann handled her subject in an especially sympathetic manner, telling of the many problems which had to be overcome by Mrs. Lincoln during her life time. Mrs. Tessmann's review was one of the most interesting she has ever given.

Following Mrs. Tessmann's talk, a delightful social hour was enjoyed by members of the section. Tea was served in the dining room which was lighted by tall tapers arranged on the table which was centered with a large bowl of autumn fruits in rich shades of purple and red. Mrs. Terry Stephenson poured.

Mrs. White was assisted in her hostess duties by Mrs. W. H. DeWolf and Mrs. J. M. Cloyes. Mrs. F. E. Coulter, president of the Ebell society, was a guest of the section for the afternoon.

La Habrans Are Married At Quiet Service Here

Coming as a surprise to their many friends in this county was the marriage Saturday morning of Jesse B. Herman, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Herman, of La Habra, and Miss Alice Moore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Q. Moore, also of La Habra.

The wedding ceremony took place in this city and was a very simple affair, the only attendants of the bride and groom being A. I. Strong and Miss Annie Parrot of Norwalk. The bride chose a soft blue tulle dress with tulle trimming for her wedding gown. Accessories were in harmonizing colors.

Following a short honeymoon, the young couple returned to La Habra where they were honored at a pretty dinner party held for them by Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Herman. Guests at the dinner included Mr. and Mrs. Joe Massey, Joe Massey Jr., Bruce Massey, all of Santa Barbara, Mr. and Mrs. Crell Herman of Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Herman.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Herman are graduates of the Fullerton union high school while Mrs. Herman also graduated from the Fullerton junior college. Mrs. Herman plans to continue her work as bookkeeper for the La Habra Domestic Water company for some time.

Santa Anans to Visit In Los Angeles This Week

Mrs. Howard ("Bart") Cook and baby son, Donald, of Los Angeles, who have been the guests of Mrs. Cook's parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. V. Linsbard, 415 West First street, returned to Los Angeles today, accompanied by Mrs. Linsbard and her little daughter, Jean, who were to visit them and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Eggert for a short time. Mrs. Eggert was Miss Julia Linsbard, and Mrs. Cook was Miss Gertrude Linsbard.

"Bart" Cook, once the football hero of Santa Ana high school and later of University of California, and captain of the high school team when it won the Southern California title in 1921, completed his aeronautical training at San Antonio, Tex., a year ago, and is now regularly employed at Vall field, Los Angeles, carrying mail and passengers to Salt Lake City, Las Vegas, New Mex., or San Francisco.

Among his many thrilling experiences was the one of recent date when flying from Salt Lake City with the mail plane and carrying one passenger, he encountered such a heavy storm over the mountains that he was forced to turn back. It was then so late that the lights on the landing field in the Utah city had been extinguished, and he had to pass between two mountain peaks in landing, guessing meanwhile at the location of the field.

THE TINYMITES

STORY BY NAL COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KNICK

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

The Tynymites were tickled pink. Said one of them, "Well, just to think that we should meet the funny man who rules the skies above." Then to the man another said, "Oh, Mister, kindly go ahead and take us on a long, long trip. That's something we will love."

"All right!" the small man said. "First I will float this cloud high in the sky. You wonder how I'll do it? Well, just watch and you shall see. The clouds obey whatever I say, and we will soon be on our way." He clapped his hands and shouted, "Rise!" The Tynymites yelled, "Whee!"

Up, up the cloud went. My, what fun! The promised trip was now begun. The Tynymites sat still in their boat and never said a word. The funny man sat right nearby, with his balloon still in the sky. The cloud kept moving faster, almost flying like a bird.

Soon Scouty said, "I'd like to know just how far up we're going to go. Suppose we hit the sky of blue! What's going to happen then?" The Sky Man answered, "Don't you fret. That's further than we'll ever get. I'll promise you no harm will come. I like you little men."

All of a sudden Coppy cried, "Oh! There's the moon!" Then Carpy sighed, "I've often heard about him. I just wish that he'd come near." Real soon this simple wish came true. The Moon Man shouted, "Howdy do!" He drifted up beside the boat and added, "Have no fear."

"Oh, can I take a ride on you?" "Would be a dandy thing to do," said Clowny. "I have watched you as around about you've soared." This made the brilliant Moon Man grin. And shortly he stuck out his chin and said, "Why sure you can, my lad. I'm ready! Hop aboard."

(Clowny has a ride with the Moon Man in the next story.) (Copyright, 1928, NEA Service, Inc.)

Household Suggestions

VEGETABLE PIE

A good supper dish for children is made of a deep dish "pie," covered with biscuit dough. Use creamed sauce over any diced vegetables, such as carrots, turnips, peas, string beans or cauliflower.

RESTED EYES

The tired housewife will feel much refreshed if she can lie down a half hour afternoons before dinner. Put a cloth dipped in witch hazel over the eyes and they will be rested and brightened visibly.

APRON POCKETS

Put two big pockets on every work apron. They save many steps. Use one for things to be put away. Save the other for scraps. This leaves your hands free to work with.

The WOMAN'S DAY

by ALLENE SUMNER

There's a little white house "just over the line" in Maryland where, rumor has it, the present mistress of the big White House on Pennsylvania avenue will spend much of her time as soon as she turns over the keys to the jelly and linen and fruit closets to the next First Lady, and is just plain Mrs. Calvin Coolidge.

The "little white house" just over the line" is in startling contrast, indeed, to the big White House on Pennsylvania avenue with its crystal-chandeliered East Room and the gold piano, with the rich mahogany in the big state dining room, the mahogany-balconied grand stairway, the conservatories and large bedrooms with beds and chairs in which the great of the whole world have rested.

The "little white house" has green vines that make picture shadows on it in the sunlight and in the evening when the cool night winds make the leaves dance. It has a garden and a tree and cheery chintzes and cozy chairs and a log in the grate and pretty dishes for the table.

The mistress of "the little white house" is a Miss Stella Stewart. She and the First Lady went to school together long years ago in New England and have been friends ever since—at least they have been friends as much as is possible when one is mistress of the nation's most famous home and the other is "just a government worker."

JUST A STORY

But a car with the executive mansion coat of arms upon it has often stood before "the little white house" over on the Maryland side, and the First Lady has often gone in and out on a visit to her friend, for even high station can never make a Mrs. Coolidge forget the higher station of friendship.

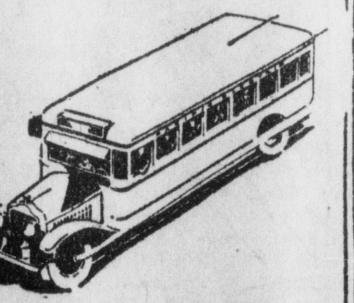

Despite her known friendship with Mrs. Coolidge, Miss Stewart has never moved in Society with a capital S in Washington.

But when the tumult and shouting of public life are over they say that Grace Coolidge who for nearly eight years has reigned in the nation's first house as, they say, no White House mistress has ever reigned before, with perfect tact and efficiency, will call the modest little home of her friend her own Washington home and will spend several months of each year there with her.

FIRST LADY VISITS

Maybe the fragrant little story of a friendship between two women is nothing but just a story—one of the stories we sentimental people like. But whether true or not it reminds us of the old law of compensation—of the many simple, taken-for-granted pleasures which "just ordinary people" can have, but which are denied the great, and for which they are often glad to exchange their greatness.

One can well imagine that during her eight years as First Lady with every hour and minute of her day devoted to the people whom she ought to see and entertain because of their relation to her job and her husband's, the president's job, there were times when Grace Coolidge would have tossed all her White House reception gowns into the rag bag for just the right to ask her simple old schoolyard friend in for a cup of tea before her own living room fire, and a gossip chat quite alone. But much as she wished for this thing, she could not have it.

Mrs. Coolidge is one of those rare human beings blessed with the talent of extracting the perfume and juice down to the last drop from whatever situation in which she finds herself.

She has not only admitted that she has enjoyed every minute of her White House life, but she has so shed her enjoyment that everyone who came into contact with her believed in its sincerity. But it is just as believable that her days and hours of plain Mrs. Coolidge in the "little white house across the line" will be more full of peace and joy than the days in "the big White House."

CHIC BREITSCHWANTZ

A black velours de laine coat for afternoon has a little standing collar, deep rounded cuffs and a back cape collar of breitschwantz.

SAVINGS HANDS

If you put a little vinegar in the rinse water on wash day, it will prevent your hands from becoming rough and chapped.

FLAT BOWKNOTS

The smartest bowknots now are the flat ones, like those on sports hats, applied flatly. A black satin frock has flat bowknots of black lace, edged with a satin, down the side front closing, like frogs. The cuffs have three each, the last one almost elbow high.

EAT THE THEATERS

WEST END

The western actor performs as great a service for the rising generation as do school teachers, declares Tim McCoy, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's western star in "Beyond the Sierras," now showing at the West End theater. He says that Western pictures have had a greater effect for good on the youth of the world than probably any other single factor.

"Western drama," he says, "is popular principally among boys and reaches them at their most impressionable age. Whenever you see small boys 'playing Western' you know that they have been so influenced by the movies.

"Consider the Western play. The hero is a cowboy, a he-man, standing up for the weak against the bully, facing danger for the right—a hundred percent 'good man.' The small boy imitates him, tries to be like him. It is a lesson in square dealing and manliness.

"The villain is a hundred percent of all that's bad. And no small boy wants to emulate him. His bad traits are so painted that the boy will always shun them. These impressions of youth are so forcible that they last for years."

WEST COAST-WALKER

Packed houses at the Walker theater, yesterday showed the interest of local audiences in sound pictures for "Lights of New York." Warner Bros.' first all-sound picture was presented.

"Lights of New York" is the story of two young lovers who, weary of the home town, seek opportunity for fame and fortune in Manhattan. Landing on pitiless Broadway, the girl, as a night club entertainer, the youth the keeper of a—not the innocent barber shop he has been inveigled into buying—but a bootlegging joint.

Then begin the complications which include the shooting of a policeman, the betrayal of the police, the strange killing of the night club proprietor, and other exciting developments of the plot. The effect of human voices speaking every line, is uncannily exciting.

Helene Costello and Cullen Landis head the all-star cast which includes Gladys Brockwell, Mary Carr, Wheeler Oakman, and many other well-known players.

YOST'S BROADWAY

For entertainment, production value, excellence of cast and direction, and historical correctness, "Uncle Tom's Cabin," which is now showing at Yost's Broadway theater, is unexcelled in pictures of the current season.

Each player might have been born to play his respective role, Margarita Fischer brings to her portrayal of the harassed Eliza a poignant realism almost breathtaking in its power. Her scenes with Simon Legree and Cassie, and those beautiful moments with George and Little Harry combine to make an unforgettable performance.

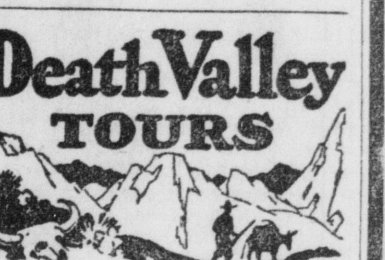

The thrill of the picture is the celebrated scene wherein Eliza crosses the ice. James Lowe as Uncle Tom enacts his role with a simplicity and strength in marked dramatic contrast to the burly, brutal Simon Legree of George Siegmann.

Spiritual and ethereal is the fragile Little Eva enacted by nine-year-old Virginia Grey, a newcomer to the screen and a child whose talents will make her eventually one of the screen's most outstanding personalities.

THE NEBBS—Where There's a Will There's a Way

AMBROSE, YOU DON'T HAVE TO BUY A RING AT ALL—I WAS SO PROUD OF YOU THAT I WANTED MY FRIENDS TO KNOW THAT I MARRIED A RICH MAN, AND JEWELRY LENDS THAT DISTINCTION. BUT IF YOU THINK I SHOULD HAVE IT, AMBROSE, IT'S LAW WITH ME.

I NEVER LOOKED AT IT THAT WAY—I GUESS YOU'RE RIGHT—WE CAN'T LOOK CHEAP—I'LL GIVE YOU THE CHECK AND YOU BUY IT YOURSELF THEN YOU'LL GET WHAT YOU WANT.

I'LL SPEND JUST $250 OF THIS FOR A RING—I KNOW A PLACE WHERE ACTRESSES BUY THEIR JEWELRY—THEY GET ROBBED OF IT. IT LOOKS SO GOOD THAT THE GENUINE FEELS JEALOUS. IT DON'T LAST LONG, BUT IT WILL BE AROUND AFTER HE'S GONE.
